

SHOT FIRED IN FIGHT ON BAY FERRY

Berkeley Capitalist Attacked On Boat From Sausalito; Ukiah Cattleman Charged With Attempt to Murder

Victim's Son, School Athlete, Blocks Bloodshed; Woman Faints During Wild Panic; Battle Climax of Old Feud

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Following an exciting battle on the upper deck of the ferry steamer Sausalito this morning, during which one shot was fired and a hundred passengers, including many women, were thrown into a panic, E. D. Baker, a Ukiah cattleman, was arrested, charged with attempting to murder Clarence D. Hillman, capitalist and ranch owner, who resides at 1410 Arch street, Berkeley.

The presence of Homer Hillman, Berkeley High School athlete and football star, who was acting as a bodyguard for his father, is said to have prevented possible bloodshed. Baker was disarmed, and as Hillman was untouched by the bullet there was no serious consequences of the shooting.

ARRESTED MAN DENIES ATTEMPT TO SHOOT.

Versions of the affair told by Hillman and his son differ materially from that of Baker, who asserts that he made no attempt to fire and that the bullet was discharged during the struggle.

U. S. OFFICER PREVENTS PANIC AND INJURIES.

A panic was averted, and possible injury to one of the contestants was obviated by the prompt action of United States Internal Revenue Officer H. W. Gloss, who pounced upon the participants and took Baker into custody. He was turned over to the San Francisco police, charged with assault with intent to commit murder. He is 72 years old.

The trouble is the outgrowth of a declared, old-fashioned cattle rustling in Ukiah, where both Hillman and Baker maintain large ranches. According to Hillman he had Baker arrested for the theft of cattle, but the latter was acquitted. Baker then brought suit for $25,000 damages for false arrest and Superior Judge H. L. Preston of Ukiah found a verdict for Hillman.

Early this morning both men boarded the train at Ukiah. The sheriff, Hillman says, had ascertained that Baker had been making threats and had purchased a pistol. He warned Hillman, according to the latter, meeting him at the depot as he was about to depart and handing him a gun for his own protection.

In Hillman's party, beside his son, was his attorney, Wells Wetmore, of Oakland.

Nothing untoward occurred until the ferryboat, which the party boarded at Sausalito left for San Francisco. All went to the upper deck, which was crowded and was walked around, guarded by his son. It is claimed by the Hillmans that Baker came up behind him and fired his automatic from his pocket. Homer Hillman, they say, jumped upon Baker and attempted to disarm him.

WOMEN SCREAM AND ONE FAINTS AWAY.

Meanwhile the passengers became and one of them is said to have fainted. Homer Hillman was unable to disarm Baker, and it is alleged that the trigger was again pulled, but the bullet jammed. It was then Officer Gloss, the only peace officer on board, turned into the encounter, quickly disarmed Baker and took him into custody. He was taken to the Ferry Police bureau and turned over to the San Francisco authorities.

There has been a feud between Hillman and Baker for a long time. In Baker's possession were newspaper clippings, telling of various lawsuits in which Hillman had been implicated and a statement to the public written in Baker's handwriting, dated April 27, and written early today in Ukiah just before he boarded the train.

Hillman has been involved in other criminal and civil actions.

S. F. POLICE TAKE HUGE BOOZE CARGO

Truck Stalling On Hill Is the Cause of Suspicion Being Directed to Its Contents; Patrolman Arrests Driver

Officers Think Auto Load Was Only Part of a Great Shipload Unloaded at the Foot of Taylor Street

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Partial details of how a cargo of 5000 gallons of Scotch whisky, valued at $350,000, was successfully landed from a rum runner near the foot of Taylor street early today were disclosed by the police with the capture of an automobile truck containing 141 cases of the contraband liquor, and the subsequent arrest of the driver.

As the result of the confiscation of a portion of the cargo of booze a police posse, under the direction of Lieutenant H. P. Craig, is making a search of the north beach section in an effort to unearth the liquor cache.

A rum-running vessel is believed by the police to have slipped into San Francisco bay during the early morning hours under cover of a dense fog bank, and transferred the liquor to the shore. The truck which was seized when the motor stalled on the Filbert street hill, is thought to have contained one of the first loads of liquor to be taken away from the scene of the smugglers' activities.

OFFICER SUSPECTED OF COVERED VEHICLE.

John Albert, 175 Sixth street, driver of the automobile truck, was arrested and the machine and its contents taken to police headquarters. Albert was charged with transporting liquor in violation of the Wright act.

The cases on the truck contained a high grade Scotch whisky, bearing Vancouver, B. C. trade marks and stamps. The truckload was said to be worth $100,000 dollars at present bootleg prices.

Albert's arrest and the seizure of the truck was made by Patrolman George Burkhardt, who saw the heavily laden truck, which was covered with canvas, moving slowly south on Taylor street. The machine turned west on Filbert street and then stalled on the hill.

The police officer approached the machine and becoming suspicious of the actions of the driver, lifted up the canvas and saw the liquor cases. He immediately arrested the driver.

IDENTIFICATION MARKS ON TRUCK MISSING.

Albert was alone on the truck. At the hall of justice he refused to tell the police details as to where the whisky was loaded other than to say it was near the foot of Taylor street, where it had been landed about an hour before his arrest from a sea-going tug.

The license plate and the registration plate had been removed from the truck.

When questioned by police detectives, Albert at first told what officers declared to be a fanciful story of how he met a strange man at Twelfth and Mission streets last night and was engaged to drive the machine on a mysterious mission. He would not say where he was going to deposit the truck load.

Irish Rebels Attack Island Dock Yard

CORK, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Irregular forces made an abortive attack on the Dublin Island dock yard in Cork harbor early today, pouring a hail of machine gun bullets into the buildings from two points on one side. DUBLIN, April 27.—Three men and a woman drove up to the Central Cinema theater, on Sackville street today, placed a mine outside the building and then hastened away. ## Man Holds Wife Under Water to Insure Drowning

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., April 27.—(By The Associated Press.)—Having confessed that he sat on his wife in a shallow pond till she drowned, John A. Carlson, a plumbing contractor, was held without bonds today.

He said he deliberately drove his automobile over an embankment and both were thrown into the pond. Then Carlson placed a cushion on his wife's head and chest and sat on it, holding her beneath the surface.

Carlson sat there until her struggles ceased, according to his statement and then went to the highway and obtained assistance. He rode to a hospital in an ambulance with his wife's body and told officers that the accident occurred when his wife lost control of the car.

Carlson and his wife were married twenty-four years ago. The sons aged 17 and 14 live here.

The drowning occurred a month ago. Carlson said he had quarreled on the motor trip with his wife because he purchased for her a fur coat costing $150 when she wanted one costing $300.

10,000 STRIKE IN NORTHWEST

Loggers and Seamen in the Puget Sound and Gray's Harbor Affected.

SEATTLE, April 27.—(By International News Service.)—Ten thousand lumber and marine transport workers are on strike in the Puget Sound and Grays Harbor region today and reports reaching local I. W. W. headquarters indicate thousands more will join the strike before tonight.

"We expect this strike to continue to every logging camp and lumber mill in the Pacific Northwest by May 1," Verne Smith, editor of the Industrial Worker, official organ of the I. W. W. on the coast, declared. "It was not ordered as a general simultaneous walkout. It is planned to continue until next week when 30,000 workers are out."

All day loggers were crowding into Seattle, Everett, Centralia and Aberdeen from the camps. No violence has yet been reported at any point in the state of Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO NOT AFFECTED BY STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—San Francisco today appeared to be the only major district not seriously affected by the strike of marine workers, lumbermen and loggers called by the I. W. W. two days ago.

Early morning reports from Los Angeles estimated over 1500 were out there. In the Pacific Northwest several thousand men were said to be out in the lumber camps and on the Puget Sound waterfront.

L. A. POLICE ACTIVITY BREAKS I. W. W. STRIKE

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—(By International News Service.)—Determination of the police that picketing will not be tolerated along the Los Angeles waterfront today, apparently had the effect of breaking the backbone of the general marine walkout, which had involved nearly 1500 stevedores said to have been started by the I. W. W. With the arrest today of three more suspected I. W. W.'s on charges of picketing and distributing handbills, the police declared the strike agitators had been cowed.

Rumors that clashes would follow if ship operators sought to bring in men to break the strike were definitely allayed during the day as hundreds of men returned to their work.

With the exception of four or five steam schooners in the lumber schooner now in the harbor were loaded without being molested. All trans-Pacific steamers with but one or two exceptions due to call from the port last night or today, departed but a few minutes after schedule.

HANGS SELF AS BROTHER IS EXECUTED

While Georgian Pays Death Penalty for the Alleged Murder of Officer, Boy, 12, Seeks Suicide On Tree

Parents of Condemned Man and Ten Brothers, Sisters, Go to the Execution; Not Guilty, in Farewell Speech

By TARIETON COLLIER, International News Service Special Correspondent.

LAFAYETTE, Ga., April 27.—George Baker, 19, went to his death on the gallows today for the murder of Deputy Sheriff J. W. Morton. As Baker's body passed through the trap door of the gallows, it came between a picture of Bebe Daniels in a bathing suit and a photograph of Gloria Swanson, pasted on the wall.

The trap of the gallows is the second floor landing. The body of the condemned man passed almost to the landing of the first floor in the small space between the stairs.

CONDEMNED MAN'S BROTHER SEEKS DEATH.

Burdened with a grief heavier than a boy's heart could bear, Elbert Thomas Baker, 12-year-old brother of George Baker, whose life the state claimed, attempted to commit suicide today by hanging.

When he learned the last resource had been exhausted to save George from the noose, he climbed a tree in the Baker family yard, knotted a clothesline to a limb, tightened the rope about his neck and jumped from the tree.

The timely arrival of a neighbor saved the lad from death. Elbert was strangled when the neighbor rushed to him and cut the rope.

Baker's mother and father and ten brothers and sisters went to the scene of execution. But Hazel Baker, girl wife, remained in Rome. She chose to wait until death had closed the tragedy of her brief romance. She will come to Lafayette when Baker's body has been taken by his relatives.

Final futile efforts to stay execution were made last night. Attorneys for Baker petitioned Judge Moses Wright, claiming that Baker would have to be resuscitated. Judge Wright denied the plea after a brief conference with Governor Hardwick over long distance phone.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN FAREWELL SPEECH

Before the trap was sprung, Baker leaned from a window in the death chamber and spoke to the crowd below. He appeared calm and composed and spoke in a cool, clear voice:

"Goodbye, boys, I'm going now. Don't get in any trouble. Always stay out of trouble. Tell the woman I was boarding with I will never forget her. I am paying the penalty for murder for which I am not guilty. I committed no murder. Goodbye, Buck. Goodbye, son. Farewell, farewell, all."

Baker was the most composed of the little group at the gallows. "Pa" Baker faltered through a little lecture that was intended for cheer and comfort, but that broke into a plaintive protest against the state, the first word of bitterness he had uttered.

"It's unjust," he said, tears streaming from his light blue eyes that seem to have been washed out by weeping. "I've lived in the way of the Lord and I hope you will live in the way of the Lord."

"I'm ready, Pa," said George. "Don't you worry."

The old man wept silently a moment. Baby Vera, in her mother's arms, sobbed and clung to her. A gloomy crowd of death chamber.

The department of religion and education of the Bulgarian foreign office, in taking this action, announced that the church was not officially recognized by the state. The department also said that the decree possessed no legal force.

WOMAN CURED BY SON'S ACQUITTAL

Mother, Paralyzed On Arrest of Youth, Is Restored by "Not Guilty" Verdict.

Stricken with paralysis several months ago when her son, Ernest, was arrested on a charge of highway robbery, Mrs. Henry Loeffler, 622 Merriman street, recovered her faculties, regained her speech and was able to greet her son for the first time since her stroke yesterday, when the youth was acquitted by a jury in the court of Judge Lincoln E. Church.

Immediately after he was freed by the jury yesterday, Loeffler left the courthouse to rush to his mother's bedside at their home. He had been warned by his attorney, Henry Skinner, that the woman had been dangerously ill with paralysis ever since his arrest, as a result of grief.

Entering the house doubtfully, not knowing what effect his presence would have, he found his mother, the youth approached her bedside. For several moments she stared at him, apparently with no sign of recognition.

Then she sat up in bed and held out her arms. "Ernest, Ernest," cried the mother. "My boy—my boy! I knew you were not guilty."

These were the first words she had spoken since the stroke, and physicians who had been attending her declared that the shock of being able to see her son again, and the joy offset the effects of the paralysis.

Tears streamed down the youth's face as his mother still clutched him in her arms and sobbed out endearments, declaring that she knew her faith in him was not in vain.

The verdict of the jury of eleven women and one man in acquitting Loeffler was denounced following Judge Church, as "a rank miscarriage of justice."

WAR IN IRELAND WILL END MONDAY

De Valera Issues Orders to Rebel Army to Cease Hostilities.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, April 27.—The war in Ireland will end on Monday, it was learned this afternoon from the highest possible source. Eamon de Valera, leader of the republicans, has issued an order to the irregular army to cease hostilities at noon on April 30.

De Valera is the only republican irregular leader of consequence left in the field, and he is said to have come to a realization that it is hopeless to attempt to fight the Irish Free State any longer.

The morale of the irregular army has fallen steadily since the death of Liam Lynch, the chief of staff of the republicans.

De Valera has issued orders to his followers in the field to quit fighting was received by Free State officials with great joy, but they were not surprised. The steady succession of Free State victories in the field convinced them that the irregulars could not hold out much longer. It is not assumed that absolute peace will settle down upon the country at once. There are numerous outlaw bands, who hold their guerrilla depredations and raids under the cloak of "republican patriotism." These bands will have to be rounded up before tranquility is general.

Although Loeffler was positively identified by Thomas Nuttall, who was held up and beaten by two robbers, as being one of the bandits who robbed him, the jury deliberated only a brief period before returning a verdict of not guilty. A confession made to the police by Robert Brown and Loeffler, in which they admitted that they had committed the crime, and had contemplated perpetrating a series of other robberies, was introduced by the prosecution.

Brown has entered a plea of guilty to the charge and is now awaiting trial in the county jail.

BOMBS RUIN RUHR ROADS, TELEGRAPHS

Transportation, Communication Systems Demoralized by Widespread Blast Plot; Troop Train Endangered

Attempt to Wreck Passenger Express Foiled; Germans Rush Customs Barrier in Confusion Over Sabotage

DUESSELDORF, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Five separate bomb explosions on the Ruhr during the night cut railway, telegraph and telephone communications, temporarily disorganizing traffic. French headquarters said the explosions had caused the most serious damage since the beginning of occupation.

During the confusion the Germans made a series of efforts to run the customs barriers into interior Germany, but large quantities of goods which the Germans were trying to get through were seized by the French.

The explosions tore up sections of track and blew down the wires alongside in each instance. HEAVILY LADEN TROOP TRAIN NARROWLY ESCAPES.

In one case near Dornum, a French troop train heavily loaded, had a narrow escape. The explosions cut the line from the eastern Ruhr to Duesseldorf, which is used for troop movements and the carriage of supplies. Four other lines were cut near Hattingen.

The destruction will delay transportation for several days while the damage is being repaired. Besides these cases of violence the French authorities report that an attempt was made to wreck a passenger train near Mayence by placing huge pieces of iron and steel on the tracks.

15 BILLION MARKS WORTH OF SILK SEIZED.

The German efforts to run the French customs barrier into unoccupied Germany resulted in the largest haul of merchandise since the occupation. The French seized six motor trucks loaded with bolts of silk, valued at 15 billion marks, from the silk mills near Wölkelt.

The Germans claim a trap had been set for them. They asserted Frenchmen offered for a consideration to show how the customs blockade could be run along a certain road left unguarded at night, but when the silk caravan they arranged to send arrived at this road a detachment of French soldiers surrounded the Germans and confiscated the entire outfit.

A truckload of soldiers, knives and other cutlery from Solingen also was seized. It was valued at 700,000,000 marks.

EXTRA SESSION MAY LOOM OVER BUDGET CONTEST

May 14 Proposed As Time of
Adjournment, But Senate
May Go On for Days.

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK.
SACRAMENTO, April 27.—A weary assembly, which has been burning the midnight oil for the past week, last night adjourned to reconvene on May 14, which is Monday. This would probably mean that the speaker will order the Sergeant-at-Arms to "stop the clock" on that date and that the House will continue the session for another two or three days, in order to wind up its affairs.

Though a sigh of relief swept the Assembly when the date of adjournment actually came within sight, the already opinionated members of a special session may be called for in the event that the budget should be held up through the unexpected tangle in which that vital document now finds itself over the disputed constitutionality of millions of dollars of non-budgeted items. The next few days will show whether these fears are groundless or whether the lawmakers will have to make up their minds to face a special session in the near future.

LABOR MEN REJOICE.

Labor members of both houses today are rejoicing over the passage by the Senate of the bill regulating the operations and the fees of private employment agencies. The bill had been previously rejected in the Senate by the narrow margin of one vote, but was carried on reconsideration by 23 yeas against 19 nays. Assemblyman Roy Fellom introduced the measure in the house, while Senator Daniel C. Murphy, leader of the labor forces in the Legislature, sponsored it in the Senate. The main opposition to the bill was voiced by Senator Charles W. Lyon of Los Angeles who declared that it "aimed at the destruction of an employment monopoly" in behalf of the state employment agencies and by Senator Ed Sample of San Diego.

SEES HIDDEN DANGER.

Assemblyman Edward J. Smith of Oakland was the only member of the Assembly who saw a hidden danger in the bill of Assemblyman Willard Badham, of Los Angeles, removing the power of disaffirmance of the contract for life assurance made by a minor over the age of fourteen and one-half years. Smith case the lone vote against the bill, which was carried by a vote of 46 to 1, and he subsequently issued the following statement: "I arrived in the Assembly chamber from a meeting of the judicial committee of which I am a member in time to hear the closing remarks of Assemblyman Badham with respect to this bill. Before I had an opportunity to read the bill a roll call was under way. This bill is fundamentally wrong. Under our present state law a minor can disaffirm any contract upon attaining his majority, but if the contract is made by such minor while over the age of eighteen years and less than twenty-one he must return the consideration or its equivalent. This bill, as I view it, would make children the play of unscrupulous agents. If insurance is to be carried by the minor why should not the contract be made between the company and the minor's parents?" "Shortly after the passage of this bill and before I had an opportunity to get a member voting affirmatively to move for reconsideration the Assembly adjourned, but I intend to create active opposition to the bill in the Senate committee."

"SPAT" OCCURS ON FLOOR.

Another "spat" has occurred between Governor Friend W. Richardson and Will C. Wood superintendent of public instruction over the bill of Senator Will C. Wood.

Legislators Seek Legal Light on Budget Tangle

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK.
SACRAMENTO, April 27.—Recurring appropriations, provided by statute for the University of California, to the amount of more than six million dollars, are in danger of not being honored by warrant, according to information supplied to a special assembly committee by the office of the attorney-general.

This is the result of the newly-developed budget situation, whereby it is ruled that only those items expressly mentioned in the Governor's budget are certain to be provided. Some of the university appropriations are within the budget, and are therefore considered safe. But, according to Assemblyman Christopher B. Fox of Berkeley, who was a member of the special committee which called on the Attorney-General by direction of the Assembly, the University recurring appropriations, which include the salaries of the members of the university faculty, cannot be guaranteed by the proposed "validating clause" which the attorney-general would add to the budget to take care of "recurring appropriations" in general.

SENATOR IS SUMMONED.
As a result of this tangled state of affairs, Senator Arthur H. Breed and Assemblyman Fox today wired Robert Sproul, controller of the University, to come to Sacramento and to bring legal counsel for the board of regents with him, in order that the university may be directly represented in the discussion of the matter. Senator Breed said: "This matter calls for the attendance of the best legal talent at the disposal of the university, at the State capital. The matter is too important and too complicated to be left to the personal responsibility of legislators."

The why and wherefore of the situation, as far as the university is concerned, is especially bewildering. According to one expression of legal opinion, the university's recurring appropriations cannot be made safe by a special "rider" to the Budget Act, in view of the fact that some university appropriations are already within the budget. This opinion holds that, if no university appropriations were mentioned in the budget at all, a "validating clause" might save the day, but that under the circumstances it is imperative that every university appropriation, whether it is recurrent or not, must be specifically mentioned in the budget.

DEMAND FOR ALL ITEMS.

But though the recurring appropriations of the university are especially affected there seems to be a general agreement on the part of anti-administration members that all non-budgeted items must be placed within the budget. It is announced that 32 amendments, dealing with various recurring appropriations, have already been placed on the desk of the speaker of the Assembly, and that the anti-administration men intend to bring the matter of introducing these amendments into the budget to a vote today. This would "bone" the budget to the figure of approximately $117,000,000, it is said, and this thought is not relished by the administration men.

The Assembly today struggled hard to get to the bottom of the difficulty. Its special committee called upon both State Controller Ray L. Riley and the attorney-general's office to find out whether the "blanket amendment" or "validating clause," suggested last Wednesday of public instruction over the Governor's act on it, is a valid one. The bill is designed merely to carry out the state constitution in view of the gubernatorial veto we are to conclude that the Governor puts himself above the constitution.

GOVERNOR UNCONCERNED.
Notice has been given that even if the "blanket amendment" is adopted by the Assembly, the opposition still intends to endeavor to vote the recurring appropriations into the budget.

According to word from the Governor's office, Governor Richardson is unconcerned over the situation and considers it immaterial whether or not the recurring appropriations go into the budget, or are otherwise taken care of. It is pointed out by some legislators that if the recurring appropriations are placed in the budget, they become automatically subject to the Governor's power of veto.

according to the records. He surrendered himself to the police in San Francisco on May 23, 1920, after he had been charged with being a party to the swindling of Edward Wineman, of San Luis Obispo, out of approximately $350,000. At that time he was booked on a charge of grand larceny. The alleged swindle, it was reported at the time, was the outgrowth of the transfer and sale of land which was in litigation.

Wineman and his wife Catherine, on June 3, 1920, filed suit to recover the $350,000.

It was stated that the alleged conspiracy centered chiefly about San Luis Obispo, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Wineman, an aged couple, are said to have been taken from one place to another to serve the ends of the alleged conspiracy. McKay is said to have made statements to following his arrest.

FRAUD IN LAND DEAL DENIED BY HILLMAN.

On July 10, Hillman declared that no fraud had been practiced in connection with the Wineman investigation as to values, before the consummation of the deal. Property on Puget Sound had been given in exchange for the Wineman's California ranch. He declared that the Puget Sound property consisted of two tracts, one of 18,000 acres and the other of 27,000 acres. He declared that these tracts were worth as much as the ranch for which they were traded.

It was contended by the Winemans that Hillman had made misleading statements as to timber rights and financial responsibilities of the purchase.

Through his attorney, Theodore A. Bell, Hillman filed an answer to the suit on August 4, 1920, in the Superior Court in San Francisco. In this counter suit, Hillman denied all the charges made by Wineman and his wife.

SUIT DECIDED IN FAVOR OF AGED COUPLE.
Wineman's suit against Hillman and his two associates, to recover $350,000 was decided in Wineman's favor on November 14, 1920 when a decree giving judgment in favor

BARROWS ISSUES FINAL FAREWELL TO STUDENT BODY

Preservation of the Ideals of Self-Government Is Key Note.

BERKELEY, April 28.—Voting an official farewell to University of California students through the medium of the "Daily Californian" in its last issue of the semester today, President David P. Barrows was in turn, honored by the college men and women by a special edition of the campus paper.

Tribute to the departing president was paid by Editor John G. Baldwin. Dr. Barrows, in his farewell, urged the students to preserve the ideals of student self-government and the university honor spirit.

"By its very nature," said the retiring president, "our student government demands the working together of all groups and all interests toward a single goal—the good of the university. With this in mind, success is assured. Student self-government has been and is one of the distinctive heritages of this community. Its preservation and development must be our great concern."

Auto Sign Wrecking Blamed On Hoboes

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—(United Press)—Destruction of a great number of auto road signs throughout California was blamed today on the hobo fraternity by officials of the Auto Club of Southern California. Following a number of murders recently of motorists who had taken in strangers to ride with them the club started a "don't give strangers lifts" campaign. This slogan has enraged itinerant wobblers and tramps, club officials say, and destruction of club signs along the roads has resulted.

BREAKS RECORD IN FRESNO RACE

Unbeatable Champion Takes First, With Hearne Next and Hill Third.

By AL G. WADDELL.
Special to The TRIBUNE.

FRESNO, April 27.—Little Benny Hill was the only driver who was able to break into the Durant parade here yesterday. First, second, fourth and fifth places in the annual 150-mile Raisin Day speed classic went to Cliff Durant's championship racing team, while the former Fordham University boy driving the car with which he won the last Fresno race, rolled under the checkered flag in third position.

James Anthony Murphy, the seemingly unbeatable champion, won the race and established a new track record. Jimmy's time for the 150 laps on the difficult mile track was 1 hour, 26 minutes, 54 seconds. This is an average of 103.55 miles per hour and the faster average was 103.2 miles per hour.

Eddie Hearne took second money, while Earl Cooper followed Hill across the finish line in fourth place and Frank Elliott, on the Durant Special piloted by Dario Resta in the last Beverly Hills meet, won fifth.

The only other car on the track when Elliott crossed the tape in fifth position was Joe Thomas' Duesenberg. Joe was ten laps behind the sensational Murphy and was flagged down in third position. The other six cars that started out to battle for the $15,000 purse in the last race for 183-cubic-inch cars fell by the wayside.

RECORD CROWD SEES RACE.
The greatest crowd ever seen at the Fresno track witnessed Murphy's victory; and notwithstanding the fact that Cliff Durant and his speed troupe hogged the show, it was a great race to watch. From the opening lap to the finish, there were thrills and it was a race full of surprises.

Murphy took the lead in the ninth lap and held it to the finish. Both Murphy and Hearne went through without a stop. The field got away to a beautiful start. As Fred J. Wagner dropped the red flag, the twelve cars rolled into the turn in a cloud of smoke and dust. For two laps, the mechanical wolves rolled around the track at a reckless pace while the crowds in the stands stood breathless, just waiting for something to happen. The wait was not long. On the third lap, things began to happen fast and furious and it was only by a miracle of the speed game that some of the drivers were not killed.

Going into the first turn in his third lap, at a spot just under the place where little Alton Soules went over the rail to his death, Leon Duray on the Durant Special for merely driven by Art Klein, took a wild slide and went to the bottom of the canyon. There was a cloud of dust that hit Duray and his fight with death like a smoke screen around a destroyer for a fraction of a second that seemed like minutes; then Duray's car poked its long tail up the banked turn in the path of Peter De Paolo, who was driving Frank Elliott's old Leach Special. Peter tried to get around the wild thing in front of him and he gave the top rail in a frantic effort to clear the helpless Durant, but he wasn't enough room and he crashed into the shiny Durant Special.

TWICE AROUND IN PERIL.
It was a slide down but, at the terrific speed, it meant curtains for both cars. Twice the two machines waltzed around on the safety apron; and it was the greatest wonder in the world that they didn't roll over and pin the drivers under the wheels. It was a spectacular afternoon one that will long be remembered by the fans who saw it. The dust, the crash, the shrieks of women and the clang of the ambulance bell, and were a part of the dramatic incident that flashed before the eyes of the thousands of spectators so early in the race.

While De Paolo and Duray were having their battle with fate on the first turn, Tommy Milton was pitting his driving skill against the fickle god of speed on the lower turn. Milton was about half a lap ahead of the pack when he was hit when his front axle broke. Without the suggestion of a warning, the former champion found himself battling with a car at 105 miles an hour, which had its front wheels spraddled out such a angle that his radiator almost scraped the ground.

Milton shot down off the steep bank to the safety apron and rolled around the course until he could be landed safely and he admitted afterward that it was the most sickening sensation of his whole career when he felt the front end of his car drop and he realized that his front axle had broken in the center.

DURANT STAGES THRILL.
The next thrill was dispensed by Durant himself. On the back stretch, doing better than 105 miles an hour and running in fourth place, the Oakland motor car magnate's mount belched forth a cloud of smoke and flame. There was a shower of metal over the course like the burst of a high explosive shell. Around the turn and into the stretch came Durant, with his car whirling like some wounded animal in agony. He had no brakes and he couldn't stop, so he rolled down the course until the coasting deleter had slowed down into the apron and he drove out into the weeds, coming to a stop against a low bank of earth under the infield fence.

Slowly Durant and his riding mechanic, Fred Comer climbed out and walked back to the pits where it was announced that he was out of the race with a broken crank shaft.

Just at that moment, Duray and the Durant Special rolled back with their mechanical and was announced that they were unhurt, although both cars were almost total wrecks.

It was in his eighth lap that Durant took the count and, on the ninth round, Jimmy Murphy passed Benny Hill and took the lead. The race was over and the crowd was in a comfortable

YUBA CITY NOTES

YUBA CITY, April 27.—Ella V. Davis has filed an action in the superior court against the Sutter Butte Canal company asking damages in the sum of $14,300, on account of alleged failure of the canal company to deliver water for irrigation of a rice crop on her lands when needed. The water was asked for on April 15, 1921, the complaint states, but was not delivered until June 5, and then in an insufficient quantity, with the result that she got but nine sacks of rice per acre from her land, whereas she should have had not less than 40.

Howard H. Harter has purchased a large lot in the Sutter tract from Stove Neilson, through the Yuba-Sutter Land company, and it is stated that he will in the near future begin the construction of a beautiful home on the site. Plans and specifications are now being prepared for the structure.

Fourth place with Hearne and Elliott running in fifth and sixth. At the end of thirty laps, the time was 105.6 miles per hour. Nothing happened until the forty-third lap, when Benny Hill stopped for a right rear tire and fell back from second to sixth place.

MURPHY HOLDS LEAD.
It was Murphy, Hartz, Cooper, Hearne, Elliott, Hill to the 70th lap, when Hartz signalled that he would change a right rear tire in five more laps. When the 75th lap came, the "Boy Cyclone" didn't stop but, three laps later on, just as he was passing the grandstand, he followed the example of Cliff Durant. There was the burst of flame, accompanied by a shower of metal which meant that his crank shaft had gone to tearing the internal organs of his motor. Hartz coasted around another lap and came to his pit where he announced himself out of the contest.

Then it was that the Durant parade began. The first four places, belonged to the Durant team for twenty-seven laps. At 100 miles the average was 104.57 miles per hour, breaking all previous track records for the distance and it was in this lap that Wade Norton on the Duesenberg went out. Wade was in sixth place, with everything in his favor, when he broke a piston and took the count. This left only six cars on the track and the four leaders were Durant mounts. Hill was a lap behind the fourth Durant and Joe Thomas was too far back to be dangerous, unless the leaders broke up. But the luck could not hold and in the 16th lap Frank Elliott stopped for a right rear and sacrificed fourth place to Hill.

In the 16th lap, Hill moved up into third place when Earl Cooper stopped for a right rear. Cooper got away from his pit less than half a lap behind Hill and had his pit crew not bungled on the change, he would have had third place. As he drove a wonderful race during the last twenty laps and cut down Hill's lead to about 500 yards. But Benny had too much speed to be overhauled and, while Cooper a great fight for third place won the applause of the crowds, the veteran had to be content with fourth money.

FRESNO TO FETE VALLEY RAISIN

150,000 People See Parade, Speed Classic and Other Features of Day.

FRESNO, April 27.—A crowd of approximately 150,000 persons thronged Fresno today to view the Raisin Day parade, three miles long, and in which cities from all over California were represented and to witness the Raisin Day classic at the speedway. The history of the development of the raisin from its inception in Egypt and Armenia, centuries ago, was illustrated in pageantry, while every industry of the San Joaquin valley was represented. Twenty bands furnished music for the crowds. Bert Lyell, moving picture actor, reigned as king, while Miss Marie Girard, daughter of a Fresno raisin grower, reigned as queen.

The most artistic float in the parade was entered by the Chinese association, according to, according to, according to, while the best decorated float from outside the San Joaquin valley was entered by San Francisco. Los Angeles entered the best decorated automobile float from outside the valley. The king's float was entered by Kings county, while the queen's float was furnished by Delano, Kern county.

INTERNATIONAL MUSEUM MILITARY WINN FIRST PRIZE AT ART EXHIBITION

Carnegie Institute Awards
$1500 and Medal to
A. B. Davis.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Artur B. Davis of New York City won first prize in the twenty-second International exhibition of paintings at Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh. It was announced today at the close of the Founders' Day exercises. The distinction carried with it a gold medal and $1500, and was for his painting, "Afterthoughts of Earth."

The second prize, a silver medal and $1000, went to Eugene Speicher, of New York, for his painting, "The Hunter," and the third prize, a bronze medal and $500, to Pierre Bonnard, of France, for his painting, "Woman with Cat."

FRENCHMEN HONORED.
Honorable mentions were awarded to Pierre Laprade of Paris, Maurice Denis of Gernain-en-Laye, Pierre Laurens of Paris, Leon Underwood and Henry Lamb of London, Henry Lee McPee of Woodstock, N. Y., and C. Foster Bailey, who reside temporarily in Paris and Anto Carte of Brussels. The jury of award for the International were Augustus John of London, George Desvallieres of Paris, and Jonas Lie and Horatio Walker, both of New York City. The prizes were awarded in Pittsburgh April 8.

There are 233 paintings in this year's International, 136 being American and 167 by Europeans. Mr. Davis is known to art critics as a symbolist and painter of ideas. Though he paints the unusual and remote, and employs at times striking method in his work, he has achieved a high place among painters in this country and abroad. He was born in Utica, N. Y., in 1892, and at the age of seven, his drawings attracted the attention of Dwight Williams, who gave him his first lesson in art. Some years later, while working as a civil engineer in Mexico, Mr. Davis saw for the first time the works of some of the old masters. This definitely inspired a change in his life, and in 1916 he went to New York where he made illustrations for magazines. Two of his paintings appeared in the first International at Carnegie Institute in 1916, an exceptional honor for a young artist, and in 1918 he was elected to the International. He exhibited in several other Internationals, and at the seventeenth was awarded an honorable mention.

Eugene Speicher, winner of the second prize, is a distinguished and vigorous figure among the younger American painters. His art is of a robust, full-blooded and decidedly American type. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1893, studied in Paris and in New York City, and later spent three years abroad. In 1921 at the twentieth International he was awarded third prize for his painting, "Girl with Green Hat."

Pierre Bonnard, the last of the prize winners, belongs to a group of French painters who call themselves "The Intimists." He was born in 1867 and studied under Cezanne and Gauguin. His first exhibit at the International was last year.

Cottage Being Built

WHEATLAND, April 27.—George Dem, Jr., has awarded a contract to Isaac Erickson for the construction of a modern bungalow on the land he has just purchased near here from Much Brothers Construction. The bungalow will have six rooms and is to be one of the finest houses in this district.

NORDEL PRIZE FOUNDATION HAS $11,000,000

STOCKHOLM, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The next winners of the Nobel prizes, to be awarded the end of this year, will receive 114,335 crowns each, corresponding to about $24,000, according to the report for 1922 of the Nobel Foundation auditor. The total assets of the foundation are nearly $11,000,000. The total amount now available for the five prizes to be awarded is $170,000. Last year's prizes were approximately $16,000 each.

The five prizes, according to the stipulations of the late donor, Alfred Nobel, are to be given annually to those who have rendered the greatest service to humanity in the fields of physics, chemistry, physiology or medical science, literature, and in the cause of peace and international friendship.

BERLIN, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—High cost of upkeep and the general economic depression have put the German market for blooded horses in the doldrums. Eighty animals were registered for sale recently at the close of the annual fashionable horse show in Berlin, but only seven of them found buyers. A stallion offered through the Rhenish-Westphalian Association for breeding of cold-blooded stock went for 19,500,000 marks (or nearly $1,000), the highest sale of the auction.

FISHING ENTHUSIASTS
ANTICIPATE SEASON

"Hello, Julius, how would you like to go shopping with me this afternoon? I've got to buy some sort of a gift for my cousin, who was recently married."

"Can't you wait a half hour or so? You see, I just started to look over my fishing tackle. I must either get a new rod or have this one fixed before the season opens. Just look at it. Gone to pieces this winter, too."

"Yes, I'll wait around a while. I mustn't put it off too long. I might have already delayed so long that I'm ashamed of myself. I dislike cheap gifts. At the time I received the wedding invitation I didn't have the cash to step out and buy the article I had in mind. I can't do much better now, but I've decided to delay no longer."

"Well, let's go. Gee! I wish somebody would make me a present."

"What do you want as a gift—a new fishing rod or something?"

"No, not exactly, though that would be nice. But do you realize that this is my one and only decent suit!"

"Well, Julius, don't let a little thing like that worry you. Get a new one. Go to Cherry's, at 528 13th street. We'll go past there this afternoon. Why not stop in and select a new suit for yourself from their large stock of up-to-date clothing? You may buy on credit, if you wish, with six months to pay."

BUILDINGS OF FUTURE TO BE WINDOWLESS

Interior Lighting Perfected to Stage That Surpasses Daylight.

CLEVELAND, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The downtown building as well as the factory of the near future is destined to be without windows, and to depend upon artificial means for light and pure air, according to officials of the Nela Park Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company here.

"Interior lighting for every working purpose has been perfected to a stage where it even surpasses daylight," said Dr. Matt Luckiesh, preliminary findings in the research work have demonstrated that daylight actually costs more to factories, office buildings, museums and public buildings than electric illumination. "We congratulate ourselves on our free sunlight," said Dr. Luckiesh, "yet we pay dearly for it. In the first place, buildings securing most of their illumination through window panes show a heavy ledger item for replacement of glass, and general maintenance of cleaning, as well as for sills and window frames.

"Secondly, we have discovered by actual tests that in a large number of buildings the loss of heat is 25 per cent over that in buildings having no windows.

"Thirdly, there is the tremendous cost incidental to the fading of decorations and the cost of removing the large quantities of dirt and soot that blow in through windows each day.

"Probably the greatest costs to factories and public buildings, however, lies in the ground glass given over to courts or light shafts. Besides the initial cost of this property, usually a total waste, the taxes expended in keeping it clear for daylight each year is staggering."

Girl Prisoner of India Tribe Reveals Torture

SIMLA, British India, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The story of the sufferings of Molly Ellis, youthful daughter of the British commander at Kohat, while in the hands of tribesmen after she had seen them kill her mother in the early morning of March 24, is told in despatches from Peshawar, where she is resting under the care of a Mrs. Starr, the woman physician who aided in her rescue.

After their murderous raid the kidnappers fled to the hills above Kohat, half driving, half carrying their captive up the steep rocky paths. Throughout the following day she could see the searchers passing in automobiles below her. Her only protection from the severe cold of the hills was a coat belonging to a brutal Afghani named Shahzade, the man who killed her mother.

NIGHTMARE OF HARDSHIP.
The next four days were a nightmare of alternate traveling and hiding, with the girl in an ever growing state of exhaustion from her physical efforts and the apparently hopeless outlook. Her feet were lacerated from tramping over the stony tracks and once in the course of the ten-day journey she fell fainting at the top of a snow-covered mountain pass, whereupon Shahzade lost patience and drew his dagger to kill her. He was restrained by his companions.

After six days of traveling they reached her captors' home in the Tirah country. Search by friendly tribesmen was in progress under the direction of Kull Khan, a native, who on the 20th reached Kanki Bazaar, the home of an influential mulah, or Mohammedan religious leader, named Mahmud Akhundzade, where, after much pressure, he ascertained that the captive was held in a mountain fortress eight miles away. Kull Khan managed to have conveyed to the girl a parcel of comforts and a letter of encouragement, and in return learned that she was being reasonably treated by the women of the tribesmen. Mrs. Starr, under a native escort, reached the fortress.

MEETING WITH RESCUER.
Soon afterward Kull Khan induced the transfer of the captive girl to the mulah's house, where she was eventually taken, being carried over the shoulder of one of the tribesmen. The meeting between the girl and Mrs. Starr was a joyful one, but the danger was not ended, for while they talked the abductors stood around, insisting that Molly was still their captive.

Presently the captors learned that a party of Afridi, friendly to the British, had arrived at their village and were attacking it, whereupon Shahzade seized Mrs. Starr and hustled her from the room, threatening both her and Miss Ellis. The mulah became enraged at this insult to the rights of hospitality and publicly cursed Shahzade and his fellows.

In this dramatic fashion the balance tilted to the side of the rescuers and the surrender of the captive was speedily arranged.

There must be no artificial heat in the dome where a telescope is used.

NEW VOCAL DEVICE IS AID TO SCIENCE

VIENNA, April 27.—Have you a voice? If you don't know for certain just use a laryngoscope. The laryngoscope is one of the many new instruments which are being used in the department of experimental phonetics at the University of Vienna, which is now under the direction of Professor E. W. Scripture, formerly of Yale University. This instrument makes it possible to study the vibrations of the vocal chords in detail and to determine how each voice acts or fails to act properly.

Another study which is being pursued under Professor Scripture is the modulation of the voices of deaf persons. By the use of new instruments it becomes possible to deaf persons to determine just how loudly they are speaking and to pitch their voices accordingly. Professor Scripture has also discovered that epileptics have a peculiar kind of speech record that distinguishes them. From these records he has been able to show that epilepsy is not a disease of the brain, but a peculiarity of the mental character. Epilepsy, he claims, is therefore a curable disease and not an unchangeable defect of the brain as heretofore supposed.

OREGON SAWMILL BURNED.
EUGENE, Ore., April 27.—A small sawmill and shingle mill at Blachly in the coast mountains, 25 miles west of Eugene, and owned by E. J. Horton of Junction City, were destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Saw Death Coming, So Refused to Marry

FRANKLIN, N. H., April 27.—The pronouncement of death which haunted Joseph Arthur Menard, 18 years old, of this town, was so strong that the youth postponed his wedding.

"I'll be dead in March," he told his fiancée. He is dead.

The wedding had been set for the week following Easter. Although young Menard was in good health and spirits, he made this despondent prediction. He was stricken with a shock which

SUIT AGAINST 'KING OF SWAT' IS DISMISSED

Seduction Charge Dropped
by Dixon Girl; Woman Signs Confession.

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By Associated Press.)—Miss Dolores Dixon, who recently brought a suit for $50,000 damages against "Babe" Ruth, the New York Yankee's home-run king, alleging seduction and assault, withdrew her case today.

The withdrawal was made just as Robert McChesney, who was to have been examined in supreme court as to the record of Miss Dixon, was about to be called.

McChesney did not appear when called and Hyman Bushel, Ruth's attorney asked that the case be dismissed. He produced a stipulation signed by Miss Dixon, her guardian ad litem, Barbara V. Edece, and her attorney, George Feinberg, withdrawing the suit.

Bushel announced he also had obtained a confession signed by Miss Dixon in which she admitted the suit was the result of a frame-up in which several persons were involved. Ruth's attorney declined to give out the document, saying he would show it to "Babe" at Boston today. He then would turn it over to the district attorney for investigation, Bushel said.

The stipulation, signed by the plaintiff, which Ruth's attorney submitted to the court, was in the form of an agreement by which the suit was to be withdrawn "without costs to either party against the other, an order to that effect to be entered without notice, by either party to the other."

Bushel said he had refused to sign the stipulation. Although he kept secret the contents of Miss Dixon's alleged confession, he showed reporters a signature which he said was here, affixed to the document.

Ruth was training in the south when the suit was announced and he at once vigorously denied that he ever knew or had seen Miss Dixon. He was joined by Mrs. Ruth in denouncing the case as a

Woman's Economic Position Explained

NEW YORK, April 27.—The place of the new woman in the economic world was outlined to the guests at a tea at the home of Mrs. Ralph Marx, 1421 Scenic avenue yesterday by Mrs. Gladys Leggett, insurance broker and University of California graduate, who was the guest of honor.

"I am glad to say that I have been successful," said Mrs. Leggett, "but I did not achieve my success by idling on the job." The speaker is a candidate for city council.

Later McChesney, who was released from The Tombs yesterday, appeared in court ready to answer questions. He was astonished to learn that Miss Dixon had withdrawn her suit.

"I would like to go on the witness stand and tell the whole inside of this story," he told the reporters.

Bank's Million Used to Finance Bootlegging Band

NEW YORK, Pa., April 27.—Officials investigating the shortage of funds at the City Bank of York, estimated at approximately $1,000,000, declared today that thousands of dollars of depositors' money had been used to finance a bootlegging syndicate that had its headquarters in a prominent local club.

Charles S. White, in charge of the police investigation, said that Thomas B. Baird, the cashier, and William Boll, his assistant, who are alleged to have conspired in misappropriating $500,000 of the bank's funds, were closely linked with the bootlegging activities.

Both are in jail. Cashier Baird issued a statement that he helped to back a bootleggers' ring with the stolen money. "Never," said the prisoner, "have I had anything to do with bootlegging. The money I misappropriated was used to speculate in stocks."

San Jose—FresnoWALES URGED TO GIVE UP DANGERS
OF STEEPLECHASENation Worried by the Falls
Recently Experienced by Heir to Throne.

LONDON, April 27.—England's premier gentleman jockey is being seriously urged to give up riding. David, Prince of Wales, is the greatest gentleman jockey of England, and, moreover, he is one of the most daring riders in the land, and therein lies the secret of the effort to persuade him to give up racing.

The prince has had an active season, one full of spills, and the people of the nation are becoming worried lest one fine day they will lose their future king because of the fall of a horse.

PRESSURE EXERTED NOW. It is whispered that in the royal family circle there has been great pressure brought to bear to convince the prince that he has a responsibility to bear which is entirely incompatible with the sport of steeplechase racing, with its long and hazardous jumps.

During the past racing season the prince has had nearly half a dozen falls, none of which have been really serious, although on more than one occasion he has been forced to restrict his activities as the result of his falls. For several weeks after one fall the prince hobbled about on crutches.

His latest exploit followed a fall in a water ditch, and the prince risked his own life by plunging into the water in an effort to save his horse, which was floundering about in the water.

The English people respect the sportsmanship of the prince and regard him as a daring and courageous jockey, but they feel that perhaps it would be better if he did not take the hazardous risks of riding over some of the most difficult courses in England.

When the next racing season comes, if pressure prevails, the prince will not be as active among the gentlemen jockeys, but will confine most of his riding to hunts. The question remains, however, whether the prince is going to be amenable to pressure. He is very keen about racing and counts it as one of his greatest sports. The odds are ten to one that it will take great weight to keep his colors off the steeplechase courses, even though his closest advisers are against his riding.

Husband Forged
Her Name, Says Wife

Francis Eugene signed her name to a check for $30 which she had to make good to avoid notoriety, has signed her name to other documents and has "repeatedly converted to his own use money belonging to others and corporations," asserts Mrs. Ann O. Eugene in a divorce complaint.

Mrs. Eugene also charges that her husband left her on April 23, giving her the keys and declaring that he would never return, but he came back that night and entered by a window. She says they were married in Hayward, May 9, 1920. She asks to be awarded community property consisting of real estate valued at $2500 and household effects and $40 a month alimony.

Woman Trips and Returns to California By Circular Saw

WOODLAND, April 27.—Mrs. Josie Clark, wife of Noble Clark, Cadanassa rancher and orchardist, and mother of six children, suffered the amputation of her right hand at the wrist last yesterday, while assisting her husband to clear land owned by them in the mountain district, seven and a half miles southwest of Capay. Clark and his wife were engaged in sawing wood with a gasoline driven circular saw. Mrs. Clark, 45 years old, tripped in passing the saw, and in putting her arm out to shield her body, had the entire hand severed from her body. She was rushed to the Woodland sanitarium by her husband, but had suffered so from the loss of blood, following the severing of a main artery, that her condition is regarded as quite serious.

FATAL FIRE AT JAPANESE MISSION WAS ARSON PLOT

Sacramento Prisoner Confesses He Watched As Torch Applied

SACRAMENTO, April 27 (By International News Service).—A searching probe to determine the origin of the fire which destroyed the Japanese Buddhist mission here on the night of April 15 and cost the lives of ten Japanese children, came to a sensational termination early today when J. D. Coates, a negro, broke down after a severe grilling, and told the police that John Golden, his Mexican confederate, fired the building. Coates said he acted as "lookout" while Golden touched off the dynamite.

Announcement of the confession was made by F. H. Classen, special agent of the arson board and the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who assisted District Attorney J. J. Henderson and police officials in examining the two men. Charges of first degree arson were preferred against the two men by Classen, and the grand jury will be asked to indict them today. The negro made a complete confession, according to Classen, but Golden still maintains his innocence. In his confession, Coates is said to have told the police that Golden, spurred by hatred of the Japanese as the result of a quarrel with a Nipponese, planned the burning of the school.

LODI, April 27. — Alameda county harbors 8505 illiterates, according to United States census. Mrs. Anne Godfrey, U. S. Department of Labor, told the several hundred delegates and visitors to the twenty-second annual convention of Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs before adjournment yesterday afternoon. Within the five counties represented in the district she declared there were approximately 18,000 illiterates, divided as follows: Alameda, 5505; Contra Costa, 2955; San Joaquin, 2047; Tulumne, 246; Calaveras, 231. Mrs. Godfrey explained that illiterates were interpreted as one not able to write their own name in any language.

Illiterates in California number 95,592, 55,000 of whom are foreign born, according to the representative of the department of labor. She said that this was, in recent questionnaire showed the lowest grade of any in the elimination of illiteracy, offering an increase of 20,000 persons in the past ten years who cannot write their own names. Attention was called to the fact that of the 15,000 in Alameda district whom the United States census showed as illiterates, approximately 50 per cent were women and 50 per cent either foreign born or the first generation of foreign born. The speaker urged co-operation of the club women in a practical campaign to wipe out illiteracy through co-operation with home teachers, public schools and libraries.

The endowment fund of Mills College will receive a gift of $50 from the treasury of Alameda district, C. F. W. C., as an expression of the clubwomen's interest in education and the western college.

"The Salvage of Men" was the subject of an address by Elmer Surran, chief of the rehabilitation bureau of the United States, which reviewed the program of the government on behalf of the veteran.

The Adelphi Club of Alameda contributed a group of three one act plays to the closing program. The casts follow:

"Grotes Green"—Mrs. A. E. Lorber, Mrs. J. Maurice Jonsson, Mrs. Howard K. James.

"Counsel Retained"—Miss Frances Tietgen, Mrs. J. Maurice Jonsson, Mrs. W. H. Masters.

"Ashes of Roses"—Mrs. J. Sherman McDowell, Mrs. Charles Weeks, Mrs. Lottie Garretson, Mrs. Howard K. James.

Mrs. George Allen Rigg, Oakland, retiring president, was presented with a handsome gift from the directors who have served with her during the past two years. In a happy address she presented the officers who were elected for the coming biennium yesterday. Mrs. Elton L. Warner of Oakland will succeed Mrs. Rigg as executive.

MEXICO CITY, April 27 (By United Press).—American residents joined police today in the search for Charles Parmelee, 4-year-old American boy, who was kidnaped from the children's home here. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parmelee, the child's parents, were divorced some time ago in Los Angeles. Parmelee came to Mexico City with his son about a year ago and was followed by his wife, who claims the Los Angeles court gave her possession of her baby. She has brought action in local courts.

Early last night an auto loaded with men drove up in front of the children's home, where the baby was confined and overpowering the matron took the child.

Automobiles are needed for delegates to the National Educational association convention which meets in Oakland in June. The committee in charge of arrangements asks that all who can donate their cars for trips about the city and the surrounding country list them with the committee.

The California State Automobile association and the chamber of commerce are co-operating with the convention committee in arranging for motor cars.

The annual convention of the National Education Association will bring over 20,000 grammar and high school teachers, college professors and vocational representatives from 50 foreign nations.

These two big meetings are regarded by the local committees on arrangements as perhaps the two most important conventions to be held anywhere in the United States during the present year. Believing that the entertainment of these visitors offers both Oakland and San Francisco an exceptional opportunity for constructive exploitation every effort is to be made to show the visitors the varied attractions of the bay region.

It is pointed out that the impressions made and understanding gained of what California has to offer will be carried back to the classrooms of the 400,000,000 children whom this international gathering will see.

The chambers of commerce and automobile association have estimated that the local committee will need a minimum of two thousand cars for the sightseeing trips in Oakland and San Francisco—a thousand cars for each city. Volunteers for service during any days of the convention which opens June 28 and closes July 7, should be forwarded to the convention headquarters, either in the Oakland Chamber of Commerce or the Exposition auditorium in San Francisco.

Right now the great opportunity for investment and profit is in San Jose and the Santa Clara Valley.—Advertisement.

$3000 BANKED BY 80 STUDENTS OF EMERYVILLE

School Children Assisted by Cashier in Monetary Methods

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

Within the year past D. L. Lacy, district supervisor of the two Emeryville schools, primary and grammar, had the inspiration for a great idea and with the help of the American bank at Emeryville, he has carried out his idea and it is now in working order. A bank de luxe has been instituted at the west end of the grammar school building. Every Saturday morning as regular as clockwork are coined the assistant-cashier of the Emeryville American bank comes to the school bank and is cashier and banker in chief for the grammar school students who flock in file to deposit their money. Each child who wishes, obtains his deposit slip at the office and the care and painstaking performance of making out the slips properly for dollar or so are as particular as the grownups' antics when they put away a thousand.

$3000 DEPOSITED.

The cashier remains at his post all morning if need be for he is interested as the boys and girls themselves and he learns about eager youth while they master the methods of depositing money and learn thrift. There are eight grades at Emeryville grammar school and the deposited dollars amount to eighty in number per week. That makes, in about forty weeks, the remarkable sum of $3000. Remarkable in that the sum is deposited in an established bank and for children. The American Bank of Emeryville was interested in this venture to the extent of offering a prize of $20 to be distributed among pupils writing the best essay on thrift.

Not only is Emeryville primary school a 100 per cent institution in the Community Chest, but also 100 per cent is the grammar school. In attendance the Parent-Teacher Association is 100 per cent in the county. In the state and nationally and so is the attendance of the faculty for this year. No teacher's record. The most active members of the Parent-Teacher Association are now just as actively engaged in the Community Chest drive. The Emeryville grammar school claims to have the prettiest school grounds in the Eastbay region. This term's graduating class is the largest in the history of the

"Pride and Prejudice"

Every woman who has read the old novel knows of the woes that come where "Pride and Prejudice" rule. It's an old story ever new.

Prejudice is now keeping many women from using the pure, healthful Spread for Bread—

Nucoa

Made from the snow-white fat of the coconut. Nucoa is a product which adds quality to the table, yet costs just half as much as the usual best spread.

And here Pride enters too. Many housekeepers who have to study economy and who do not know that their richer neighbors are using Nucoa, are too proud to buy any but the most expensive spreads.

N. B. Set aside Pride and Prejudice. Buy a pound of Nucoa—it comes in a protecting carton. Try it. Then if you're not proud to say that you use it, return it to your grocer. He will refund your money without prejudice or quibble.

INDIAN SAILS Wood Soanes

At last it has been explained—the mystery concerning the break between A. L. Erlanger and Marc Klaw after a partnership of fifteen years or more.

Testifying in the $270,000 accounting suit he has brought against Klaw, Erlanger explained that the dissolution occurred after he had protested in 1903 against his partner's announced intention to spend five or six months abroad each year. Cross examination of Erlanger brought out that the partnership was formed in 1888, fifteen years before Erlanger informed Klaw that he faced three propositions: to put up $150,000 more capital to match his; to pay 5 percent interest on his excess investment; or to dissolve the partnership in a friendly manner. Klaw chose the second, this ex-partner said, but later the two decided to part.

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

"The Circus Belle" is at the Macdonald with a big throng.

"Klaw knew nothing about the booking business and he doesn't know anything yet," Erlanger told the court. "How did you come to go into partnership then?" asked the counsel for the defense.

"Well," said Erlanger, "how is it that a man marries an unworthy woman?" "Well, I don't know myself why I ever stood for Klaw and his family playing hooky on me. He was a shrewd business man though he knew nothing about booking or the theatrical business. I don't know why I was such a sucker as to go into business with him."

"Will you describe the booking business for us?" asked the defense counsel.

"I will not," was the answer. "It would take me two days to do it and after I got through you wouldn't know anything about it." Questioned as to whether he did school, there will be thirty-seven graduates, twenty of whom are boys. The students when graduated from Emeryville grammar school have their choice of surrounding high schools there being no high school in Emeryville. Miss Cora Patton, who is the special music, thinks that Music Week should be an inspiration to sing the old songs and learn the new so she is teaching the entire school new music which will be sung in assembly during music week. The popular song is "Beautiful America."

MANY AT CAMP.

It seems that the Emeryville graduating class would have totaled forty in number but a few of the students who had been camping next door at the Eastbay auto camp grounds moved on. There are dozens of children at the camp ground and those of school age are attending the Emeryville schools. The Eastbay auto park is a most popular and busy community right now. New arrivals in each evening and not a day passes without a car or two registering. At present there are sixty-eight cars registered. The 350 cottages occupy most of the eight acres of camp ground. The little community has a main street and it is not in name only. Mothers stand in their sunny doorways and converse with their neighbors from Missouri or Maine and small boys in overalls romp with their dogs up and down the narrow thoroughfare all there is not kilted or two.

The favorite feline is the handsome Tommy who has traveled by auto and choice all through California and Mexico and is the only company of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Walte who arrived at the camp a month ago. The Waltes are travelers having scouted every section of country between Columbus, Ohio, and Oakland. To quote Mrs. Walte: "We are taking in the west and when we have done that we are going back to take in the East but we'll tell Oakland that when we have done that we are coming back here again. This is the place for health right here in Emeryville."

Opposite the Waltes on Main street are ensconced the Glens. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Glenn and their two children and also in cat. The family have about decided never to return to St. Louis and they like the East Bay best of all the west. Glenn is a carpenter.

Farrar Cries for American Art in 'Bookman'

The Moscow Art Theater has achieved a notable success in America. This is quite right. There were undoubtedly enough Russians in New York city to accomplish the result. Italian opera, of course, is a thing around the corner of the Metropolitan opera house is marked by many a dark and roving eye. A German troupe gave a season of Wagner and their audiences were well satisfied with Teutonic visages. Maurice Schwartz and his Yiddish Art Theater exist without difficulty in the old Garden theater and his productions there last year of the "Dubbuk," this season of "Anathema," are comparable, I believe to the work done by the Moscow group. This is New York, this is Cosmopolis! But where are the Americans?

In this fashion does John Farrar launch a dramatic and motion picture department in "The Bookman" which has stood for a long time as one of the most authoritative of literary magazines. That the dramatic department is going to be as fearlessly conducted as other departments is indicated in this diatribe against the Moscow Art Theater and the face of praise by the dramatic critics of the east.

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

The Boston Ideals played "The Chimes of Normandy" at the Grand in Chicago last night to an overflowing house.

Farrar is not railing at the Moscow Art theater for the purpose of hearing himself talk. He is attempting to stir up interest in American art. In defense of his position he calls attention to the fact that the American National Theater started its undertaking with "As You Like It" and he asks: "Why doesn't the American National Theater start with an American play and an American cast?"

His choice of the ten best plays in New York are "Ibsenism," "Kiki," "Merton of the Movies," "Peer Gynt," "The Laughing Lady," "You and I," "The Last Warning," "The Old Song," and a choice of "Little Nelly Kelly," "Caroline" and "The Clinging Vine" for musical comedy.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

Morris Gest has decided to take the Moscow Art Theater back to New York for two weeks prior to their departure for Russia. The season will start on May 21.

Two new plays by George Kelly, author of "The Torchlighters" are to be presented next season by Stewart and French. One will be "No Man's Wife," an enlargement of "The Show Off," a vaudeville sketch by Kelly.

Frank Thorne is to be in the next cast of the Music Box Revue.

With the Equity-Producing Managers' fight at its height it is amusing to recall that Margolia, the Russian, and when you SEEN is a pronouncement of Equity, was taken to the art of acting and made a star by Henry Miller, one of Equity's leading antagonists.

Lora Rogers, late character woman at the Edison theater, has started an engagement with the St. Charles Theater Players in New Orleans. She is to play leading roles of the type created by Margolia in "The Show Off," a vaudeville sketch by Kelly.

Harry Shumer writes from Detroit that he is busily engaged in setting his father's estate, but has no intention of remaining there. "Am a Californian first, last and always," opines the genial character.

T. & D. THEATER TO BE REMODELED IN NEAR FUTURE

General Manager of Corporation Now in Control Outlines Plans.

With the arrival in San Francisco of Harry C. Arthur, general manager of West Coast Theaters, Inc., of which the local T. & D. theater is a unit, passes into control of West Coast Theaters, Inc. headed by M. Core, president; S. L. Goss, vice-president; A. L. Goss, secretary; and Adolph R. Smith, secretary, the West Coast Theaters, Inc. has become within the last two years one of the fastest-growing theatrical organizations in the world and there are now nearly 100 links in the chain of theaters bearing the blue and gold trademark of the corporation.

Much of the progress of the organization within the last few months has been due to the entrance of Joseph M. Schenck, internationally known producer of motion pictures. Schenck is the husband of Norma Talmadge, and produced the Norma Talmadge production "Talmadge," Buster Keaton and Clyde Cook productions.

One of the first actions of General Manager Arthur after his arrival in the bay region was to transfer Clem Pons, advertising manager of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., to the T. & D. theater, where he will have charge of the T. & D. theater.

"It is our intention," stated Arthur, "to introduce our policies throughout the new circuit, and the destinies we are now guiding. Our theater in every community is operated upon the idea that it must be a civic asset and our managers are trained with the public service idea."

"With the formation of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., the public was promised that we would make it an institution that could be pointed to with pride, and we would present the very best motion picture productions to be obtained. Those promises have been kept."

"Within a short time I expect that President Core will be in this city and just as soon as he is able the T. & D. theater will be redecorated and remodeled so as to make it the most beautiful and up-to-date theater on the Pacific coast."

"We have secured for the coming season a comedian who has spent the best part of his life in California."

Lynn Fontaine and Alfred Lunt will be in the cast of "Sweet Nell of Old Drury," with the Equity Players. Laurette Taylor is to be Nell Gwynne.

Thomas Buchanan's new play, "Philo," opened in Stamford last week. The cast is headed by Hilda Spong, Juliette Day, Herbert Beumore and William Austin.

WHY POSLAM HEALS SKINS SO QUICKLY

When your BODY is sick, the first thing your doctor orders is REST. When your SKIN is sick, it, too, must rest before it can heal.

That is the way Poslam works. A very little spread over the irritated skin stops the itching, burning and smarting right away. Then the gentle, wonderfully healing medication in Poslam begins to work. With the irritation gone, the skin at rest, it is easy for Poslam to check the inflammation and clear away the eruption. Often eczema, rashes or other skin troubles disappear in a few days!

Poslam costs 50c at any drug store. Poslam, spread, medicated with Poslam, keeps skin healthy. For trial sample, send 10c to POSLAM, 213 W. 47th St., New York.—Advertisement.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain a much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely free of alkali. It cleanses, soothes, and keeps the scalp and hair in perfect condition. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a family for months.

Two of these (responsibility of Mulsified) in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified coconut oil in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

Are Women Overworked?

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have to help their father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Nearly one out of every 100 women who have Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for women's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women's health, and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.—Advertisement.

doll, purchased in the village of Noy forty-five years ago, is the property of nine-year-old Marion Hanna here. The doll formerly belonged to the child's mother, Mrs. Emily Hanna.

The first demonstration of the Columbia University's great X-ray machine was held recently.

ing months some of the biggest and best picture productions on the market, and I feel confident that the installation of the policy of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., through-out the new circuit will result in building up the same spirit of co-operation and harmony with the public as that now enjoyed by our southern organization. It is my ambition to have the northern California organization just as successful as the southern one, and it is the intention of every member of the northern branch to do every-thing possible to make this circuit as successful as that in the south."

Two new army officers have been assigned to duty with the Oakland R. O. T. C. unit, according to announcement by Lieutenant Colonel A. G. Lawrence today.

Major Jose Ferris Brown, retired, will take command of the Fremont high school unit. He was on active duty with the new artillery during the late war, and before that was stationed in the Philippines.

Captain Frank Nickerson, retired, will be detailed to the Oakland high school. He will arrive from the Philippines.

The new officers will assist in the preparations for the annual R. O. T. C. drill and review which will be held at the auditorium May 11.

Pyle, 30th Infantry, this city; and Major Felix Emmanuel of the same regiment, will be relieved of their present duties and ordered to report on September 15 at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

Here, There and Everywhere in the Eastbay

An Eastbay Scotchman wants to know, will they never stop persecuting the Scotch? He says it seems but a short time since they had to hide in hills and caves to escape torture and death by English forces. And now a London newspaperman shocks them with the statement that the Duke of York's bride (Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon) is not Scotch, as reported, but English. He had to trace her ancestry back to 1341 to prove it, but they seem to go to any lengths, our Scotch friend observes, to blast the Scottish ideals.

Abe Martin

Mrs. Tilford Moots' brother, rich and prominent, died from natural causes today. We believe we like an insouciant gusher better than a thin-lipped diplomat that shakes hands like a trained seal and looks a hole thro' us, but the thing 't' do is 't' live so we can tell 'em both where 't' go.

Inside Knowledge.
An Eastbay man, reading that Russians are using American milk cans to decorate the interior of their buildings, adds that they have been using the contents to decorate their own interiors.

Various Brands

George Harvey, American ambassador to England, dazzled the guests at the wedding of the Duke of York by appearing in tight velvet breeches, silk stockings and other court regalia. An Eastbay wag has contributed the following data, which the cables omitted: Velvet breeches by Anglo-Saxon; silk stockings by "Common Sense" shoe company, buckles by Royal Harness company, commanded by Senator "Tim" Reed and "Tom" Watson.

My wife keeps her eyes closed until I get up and shut off the alarm mornings.—H. J. L.
What does your wife do?

Hooray!

POP SAYS MAN WILL NEVER RESPECT GRAY HAIR AS LONG AS THERE IS A DRUG STORE IN OUR NEIGHBORHOOD.

Possibly

An Eastbay soft drink parlor is to have futuristic mural decorations. Is the proprietor trying to give his patrons the impression that they have had something besides soda pop to drink?

An Impressionistic Jar.
I had but tasted harmless pop. Yet spiders graced the table top. Pink elephants were on the ceiling. Red snakes along the walls were stealing.

And then, to my intense relief, I learned I had not come to grief. A friend said, "Note the innovation. It's futuristic decoration."

Most Likely.
The Chinese are bathing for control of the telegraph. Thus, an Eastbay student of world affairs remarks, probably is because each faction wants to pull the wires in Peking.

Cyclist's Toes Mangled.
Catching his foot in the chain of his motorcycle, Eddie Baxter, 21, a mechanic residing at 1220 Twenty-third avenue, had two of his toes so badly mangled that they had to be amputated at the Emergency hospital.

Auto Drags Owner.
Dragged for some distance by his machine when it suddenly started up as he was cranking it, Eddie Stewart, aged 40, a window washer, 1208 Wood street received severe cuts and bruises for which he was treated at the Emergency hospital.

Chain Hotels to Install Chapels

NEW YORK, April 27.—Chapels for silent meditation and prayer for guests, visitors and employees will be installed in all the hotels known as the Bowman group, John McE. Bowman, proprietor of the Baltimore, Commodore and Belmont hotels throughout the country, has announced.

The chapels will be non-sectarian. It is planned to open them day and night. The altars will be constantly replenished with fresh flowers. A beautiful stained glass window, suggestive of an air of holiness, will be one of the features.

A company already has been employed to design chapels of different sizes, in accordance with the need of each hotel.

San of Daugherty

STAMFORD, Conn., April 27.—Major Draper M. Daugherty, son of United States Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty was formally committed to the Stamford Hall sanitarium for not less than four months nor more than a year by Judge Floyd B. Barmen in the probate court here today.

The commitment proceedings were instituted on the application of Jean E. Daugherty, his wife, and M. S. Daugherty, his uncle, although Major Daugherty had said that he would go voluntarily to the institution.

Physicians today testified that Major Daugherty's health had been seriously impaired through habitual drinking, which, they said, he had admitted to them.

COMMITTEE IS CHOSEN TO AID ESTUARY TUBE S.F. CONTRACTORS

Leaders Will Take Part in Campaign to Urge Vote for Bonds.

A strong executive committee to work for the passage of bonds to build a tube under the estuary was announced today by the "Tube-the-Estuary" committee. It includes leading men and women from the Oakland cities, all of whom have investigated the tube project and have announced themselves as convinced that a tube represents better solution of the transportation problem than any bridge.

They are co-operating with the main committee in urging passage of the bonds at the general election May 8.

NAMED ON COMMITTEE.
The committee, taking in leadership in the world of education, labor, business and the professions, is as follows:

Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president Mills College; Joseph F. Carlson, president Central National Bank; W. J. Hamilton, chairman County Board of Supervisors; H. C. Capwell, Stanton W. Lore, editor Union Labor Union; D. P. Perkins, vice-president East Bay Title Insurance Company; O. H. Fisher, president Union Gas Engine Company; James Shea, president Central Labor Council; E. W. Shaw, secretary Alameda County Builders' Exchange; E. J. Leary, president Central Labor Council of Building Trades Council; E. C. Carter, Milkman's Union; Sidney Jacobs, Machinists' Union; Carl Hibbard, Cooks and Waiters Union; C. E. Risle, Carpenters Union No. 36; F. F. Foster, president Oakland Real Estate Board; Clifford E. Hickok, city manager of Alameda; Charles H. Secombe, president Eastside Board of Trade; E. S. Babue, president Alameda Chamber of Commerce; W. J. Locke, city attorney of Alameda; Mrs. Mary J. Mulholland, president Oakland Real Estate Board; Harry E. Squire, harbor engineer; A. C. Wheeler, chairman of the Red Company; Sherman McDowell, publisher Alameda Times Star; R. Porter, city attorney of Alameda; Real Estate Board; R. C. Strohlo, Sr., manager Neptune Beach, Alameda; W. D. Herrick, president Golden Gate Improvement Club; Emmet S. Husted, Glenview Improvement Club; Mrs. H. J. Platta, president Glenview Women's Club; G. H. Stern, editor The Fruitvale Progress; Professor Charles Derleth, Jr., dean, College of Civil Engineering; A. Bekin, president Bekin's Storage Company; W. H. P. Pinkston, V. O. Lawrence Company; Mrs. B. C. Eddy, Business and Professional Women's Club; C. J. Reuter, manager Oakland Labor Temple Association; and Mrs. J. A. Powell, president Alameda Federation of P. T. A.

KING GIVES VIEWS.
Loehel King of the staff of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners spoke last night before the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and before the Oakland Real Estate Board. King and Charles C. Wilson, campaign manager will talk before the Merchants' Exchange tomorrow of the tube next Tuesday evening. The Oakland Real Estate Board will devote a full meeting to the tube next Wednesday.

"It has been said that there is no reason why the county should build a tube to help Alameda," said King. "The fact is that a tube will help Oakland and all parts of the county as much as it will Alameda. But even if it were true that Alameda received the most benefit, it should be remembered that Alameda is giving its entire western waterfront to the government for the development of a naval base. This naval base will be of far more value to Oakland, Berkeley and the rest of the county, if proper transportation is provided, than it will be to Alameda. This is true because Alameda loses the taxes that would accrue if this waterfront were developed in industries."

"So if Alameda is willing to give land to the value of millions of dollars to help the rest of the county, surely the county cannot do less than to build a tube that will be of value, not alone to Alameda, but to the whole county and the Eastbay region."

P.A.C. SET FOR MEETING.
The naval base site is close to San Francisco and facts that city. Unless we provide the very best system of transportation between Oakland, Berkeley and the naval base the benefits of the base will go to San Francisco."

Speakers yesterday addressed a gathering of the Public Spirit Club in the Varsity Candy store in Berkeley and the Oakland League.

Always there was a crowd meeting before the Stenquist Improvement Club. Monday the tube message will be carried before the Kiwanis Club, Electric Club and others.

Professor Charles Derleth, Jr., dean of the College of Engineering at the University of California, will be the principal speaker before the "Tube the Estuary" committee meeting at the Hotel Oakland.

Not only is this underwear tailored to fit—following every line of the body—but close attention is paid to such details as the strap and armhole. The strap is narrow, for bulk is undesirable here and the armhole is cut low and is curved outward at the bottom. ## HUSBAND CITES HIGH EXPENSES IN DIVORCE SUIT

$10,000 Borrowed in Year and Nothing to Show for it, Promoter Says.

Taking the witness stand in his own behalf today, W. S. Mooney, former Oakland realty promoter, gave a detailed account of his financial transactions during the year 1922. Mooney is being sued by Mrs. August Mooney, Oakland society woman, for divorce, allegations of cruelty and failure to provide being made in the complaint. The case began yesterday before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco.

Mooney said he had borrowed large sums of money during 1922, the largest being $10,000 and that at the end of the year he did not have anything to show for it.

Mooney and Mrs. Estelle Loney, a witness for Mrs. Mooney, engaged in an altercation after court adjourned at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. August Mooney, a maid at the Hotel Claremont, where the Mooneys lived during the time covered by the divorce allegations, and Irene Hazelton testified that Mrs. Mooney was always extravagantly dressed and possessed an elaborate wardrobe.

Clothes seized by hotel. Questions concerning Mooney's credit at the Hotel Claremont were brought out through the testimony of Charles Anderson, of the hotel management, who testified that at one time Mooney's bill reached $1591.

Mrs. Mooney had prepared to take a trip and the management seized her clothing and held it for the bill, Anderson stated. The clothing was later released and Mooney has since that time paid the bill, according to Anderson.

Sensational testimony marked yesterday afternoon's session of the trial. Mrs. Mooney testified that Mrs. Loney told her of an incident in which Mooney attempted to kiss her.

ATTEMPTS TO KISS CHARGED. Mrs. Loney later took the stand and corroborated this testimony. She said that on one occasion "Mooney" had attempted to kiss her.

The witness said that on another occasion she was walking with Mooney in a canyon near the hotel when he again attempted to kiss her.

Mrs. Beth Higgins, wife of Attorney Preston Higgins, who is representing Mrs. Mooney in the trial, and Mrs. Genevieve C. Curtis, mother of Mrs. Mooney, were other witnesses heard. Both testified that since Mrs. Mooney's trouble with her husband she was greatly changed. Formerly she was light hearted and always happy, they testified, while since that time she has been morose and sad much of the time.

MEETING CALLED AT CAPITAL ON ANTIOCH BRIDGE

Sherman Island Project Will Be Taken Up at Office of State Engineer.

By HARRY HAMMOND. BYRON, April 27.—Speakers for and against the project of spanning the San Joaquin river at Antioch, opening up the delta territory that lies along Sherman Island and other delta tracts, and connecting with the Elio Vista, Johnston, Walnut Grove, Courtland, Sacramento county, will be heard at a public meeting called by the State Engineer's office for Friday, May 4, in the Forum building, Sacramento.

Roy V. Davis, president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, has issued a call for a large attendance at this meeting.

Congressman Curry, now in Washington, is doing all in his power to place the project in the most favorable light with the War Department. No application has yet been made to the War Department for a permit, for the reason it will have the State Engineer's office pass on the matter first. Major U. S. Grant III saw fit, however, to write a communication to the Contra Costa Supervisors regarding the type of structure. He did not, however, file any objection to it with the War Department.

The Antioch-Sherman Island route has been described as a practically impassable except by boat or by long roundabout motor trip via the city of Sacramento. There is but one link missing—the bridge over the San Joaquin at Antioch.

Frank H. Reynolds, Sacramento engineer who designed the proposed bridge at Antioch, declares the sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of building the connection.

STOLEN AUTOS STRIPPED AND SUNK IN BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Before the gang of automobile thieves, after stripping their loot of all valuable equipment and accessories, have run the machines into San Francisco bay, was expressed today by the police.

The police followed the recovery of three automobiles, which have been reported stolen during the last year from the bottom of the bay at the foot of Buchanan street. The three cars were located by Detectives Charles Dulles and Philip Lindecker a week ago and were dragged from the water by the Atlas Tow company.

The police writing of Cladwell G. Richardson, held by authorities in Phoenix, Ariz., as the slayer of Rabbi Alfred C. Lafee, on a letter addressed to a woman friend, has striking similarities to the name "H. R. Dickman," written by the slayer in a letter to the police.

ESCAPE FEARED BY OFFICIALS OF MURDERESS

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—(United Press.)—Fear was expressed by officials here today that Clara Phillips, hammer murderess, may make another sensational getaway in Honduras.

Tips have been received from the underworld that Clara's friends, who engineered her daring escape from the county hospital here following her conviction of murder, will attempt to release her in the same manner in the Central American republic, or, if that is not feasible, will try to deliver her from her captors during her return trip to this country.

Powerful underworld influences have always extended aid to the "tiger woman," both here and at Juarez, where she escaped capture due to the protection of her mysterious associates.

Officers having experience with the easy going police methods of the little Central American countries, informed sheriffs of details that unless they act quickly in getting to Tegucigalpa, where the "tiger woman" is now in technical custody, they may arrive to find that money and underworld influence have opened the doors and allowed her to disappear.

12 DIE, 20 HURT AS FIRE SWEEPS TENEMENT HOUSE

Many Saved From Death in Spectacular Rescues and by Warning.

NEW YORK, April 27.—(By The Associated Press.)—Fire of mysterious origin, starting in a pile of rubbish on the first floor of a 5-story brick tenement in East 109th street and Madison avenue early today mushroomed through the building and caused the deaths of twelve persons, members of two families living on the top floor.

Twenty persons were injured and firemen made spectacular rescues of many of the 200 living in the building. Seven of the dead were members of the family of David Mandelbaum, a painter, who had planned to move today to a little farm upstate which he recently purchased.

The dead are Mrs. David Mandelbaum and her children, whose ages range from 1 to 15 years; Aaron Kuzis; his wife; their daughter Bertha, 11; their son David, 13, and a relative, Mrs. Isaac Brownstein, who was visiting them.

FATHER RESCUES CHILD. Mandelbaum, who was rescued by firemen and police after he had made desperate attempts to save his family, said he was awakened by smoke and when he opened the door of his bedroom he was met with a rush of flame. His little son, Hyman, who also had been awakened, crawled on his hands and knees behind him.

Mandelbaum placed the youngster on the fire escape and told him to climb down and wait for the firemen. He was rescued.

The Kuzis family, who occupied an apartment opposite the Mandelbaums, was trapped. Mrs. Brownstein was pulled out of the room by firemen and sent to a hospital where she died.

Bertha Kuzis, who was to have been married June 17, lost her life because she went back to her apartment for her wedding dress. She had reached a landing where she would have escaped when she went back. Her fiancé, David Aaron, who lives in the neighborhood, saw her charred body carried from the building. He was overcome with grief.

MANY SAVED BY WARNING. Many more persons would have been trapped by the flames, according to police, had it not been for Michael Kaufman, a city employee living across from the burned tenement, who discovered the fire.

Seeing smoke and flames shooting from a fourth floor window, Kaufman telephoned in a fire.

Newberry Quits Job As Mayor of Carmel CARMEL, April 27.—Perry Newberry, writer and author of "The Beggar of Bagdad," comic opera, tendered his resignation as mayor of this city at the council meeting Tuesday evening of this week. Newberry gave as his reason lack of sufficient time to give to the duties of the office, and lack of the financial training which he held the board, he felt was necessary to the proper conduct of the office. Trustee William L. Kibbler was named to succeed Newberry as mayor.

Newberry was elected mayor one year ago in a hotly contested election, in which the principal issue was whether Carmel streets should be paved.

Newberry was elected by a large majority.

Electric Switch For City Work

North Oakland Residents, However, Lose Fight Against Noise.

An ordinance demanding electric locomotive switching at all times in Oakland was proposed by City Attorney Leon E. Gray before the city council, during consideration of the protest of North Oakland residents against the noise of switching at night along Stanford avenue on the Heidecker Brick company spur track, now used by the California Marble company.

The council finally voted to permit the continuation of the spur track to foster industry, over the protest of the residents. Gray asserted that a repetition of those night switching battles means the ultimate elimination of noisy steam locomotives.

"We are rapidly approaching the time when we will have to come to this," he said.

BERKELEY MAYOR SCORED. Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley appeared in defense of the marble works. Attorney C. C. Boyer asserted that it was "poor taste for the mayor of Berkeley to protest to Oakland residents a thing which he would not permit in Berkeley." Boyer further asserted that, despite a long battle, there has been no improvement in conditions for the residents.

Commissioner A. E. Carter said Boyer's statement was "inaccurate to say the least," and that many improvements had been made. The vote was then taken.

The council, by an ordinance passed to print, changing the name of a portion of Stanley road to Durant avenue. In honor of the auto maker.

Ten soft rink, pool room and rooming house licenses were revoked because of alleged violations of the liquor law. They were:

Harry Zacharias, 1751 Seventh; N. Collins, 48 Eighth; J. C. Bessie, 1033 Broadway; H. Bate, 605 Broadway; W. F. Serna, 615 Broadway; Lett & Fisher, pool room, 1718 Seventh; A. Scourtes, 1138 Seventh; J. Chimento, 238 Broadway; Joe Ferrara, 301 Fifth; and J. B. McChesney, 421 Tenth.

NEW AVENUE AUTHORIZED. The city planning commission recommended that Maxwell Park be made a single family residence zone and the city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance to that effect.

A report of the municipal wood yard for March shows that 2659 meals and 3121 lodgings were served during the month to 464 men.

AMERICANS NOW URGED TO LEAVE HARBIN Manchuria April 27.—(By Associated Press.)—S. Pinkney Tuck, American consul at Vladivostok, has announced that he is leaving the Soviet Far Eastern capital with his staff, May 1, and has advised all Americans in the country to do likewise, according to advice received today. It was also stated that Vice-Consul Edward B. Thorne, stationed at Chita, is leaving on the same date.

It is understood, according to the reports from Vladivostok, that the Soviet officials there had insisted that Washington request Moscow to extend governmental recognition to the American officials, and that Secretary Hughes replied by ordering their withdrawal.

The records and documents connected with the Vladivostok consular office are now said to be en route to Tokyo.

Alarm and then rushed across the street into the burning building and ran through the floors blowing a police whistle between shouts of "fire." As he fled from the building, the rapidly spreading flames enveloped the wooden stairways, driving the 40 or more tenants still in the building to seek safety through the windows or on the fire escapes.

With the arrival of the fire department, which had been called by three alarms, a half dozen men and women were found to be hanging from window sills and were brought to safety after thrilling rescues.

Worrier Accused Of Syndicalism SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Meyer Levov was arrested today on a charge of criminal syndicalism. Levov had been working on the fire escape landing at the first floor, from which the terror-stricken tenants dropped to the cab's roof.

With the arrival of the fire department, which had been called by three alarms, a half dozen men and women were found to be hanging from window sills and were brought to safety after thrilling rescues.

WIFE DIES AS MAN LIES IN JAIL OVERNIGHT

Pitiful Story of Common Law Matrimonial Venture Comes Out in Court.

The grim spectre of death, spreading its cloak of gloom over the court room of Police Judge Edward J. Turrel today severed a common law marriage from the lips of a prisoner, the story of a losing battle waged against the world's conventions.

When Fred L. Robinson appeared in court this morning, after spending the night in the city prison, to answer to charges of disturbing the peace, he was informed by the judge that his wife was dead.

It was several moments before Robinson was able to gain control of his emotions and when he did he told the story of a love which he and Mrs. Laura Willingham, who came here three years ago from Oregon, refused to let be controlled by the laws of accepted propriety.

"I knew it would be so, your honor," he said huskily, pausing to wipe away tears which coursed down his cheeks. "She had been all for a long time and I knew that this would hasten her end. When the officers came into my home yesterday to arrest me, I knew that the trouble would cause her death."

CHARGES DENIED. Robinson was arrested on a warrant secured by Mrs. Cora L. Hooper, the sister of Mrs. Willingham, his common law wife. The charges that Robinson had been abusive about his home, were denied, and the case was continued until May 1.

Robinson, who had been married to Willingham for a long time, according to the story he told Judge Turrel today, met her at the station here three years ago when she came from Oregon. He wanted to marry her, he said, but she told him that the ceremony could not be performed for four months, because of a divorce action.

"Relating that our love was sacred without the law," said Robinson, "we decided that we would let this make no difference, and that we would be married when the four months had elapsed."

LIVED TOGETHER HAPPILY. "When this time passed I begged her to marry me, but she consented that there had never been any divorce proceedings and that she was not free to marry. We lived together happily in spite of this, and everyone believed we were married."

"She had been ill from some tubercular trouble for a long time, and it took every penny that I could earn to provide medical attention. When it became apparent that she was near death, I begged her to let me see her, and her sister, Mrs. Hooper, came here to see her."

"Her charges against me are not true, and when she threatened to have me arrested, I pleaded with her to let me see her, and her sister, Mrs. Hooper, came here to see her."

Court Clerk Edwin Meese, who drew up the complaint, charging Robinson with disturbing the peace and Deputy District Attorney J. H. Davies, declared that Mrs. Hooper charged that yesterday Robinson went out and made funeral arrangements for his common law wife before her death.

But when the woman's sister insisted that he do so.

The city pound, having collected a fresh batch of dogs since the last bargain sale a month ago at Ford and Kennedy streets, now announces that a snappy line of new goods is ready for public sale at $3 to $5 each.

There are 25 or so dogs which are classified as "assorted." These, however, constitute the hot-politio or the rank-and-file of dogdom. In addition to these average goods Poundmaster John Peters announces the following specials:

Three Vagrants Get Stiff Jail Terms WATSONVILLE, April 27.—Men who gave their names as Joe Martinez, Henry Blake and Ernest Peterson were arrested at Watsonville Wednesday by Constable J. J. Lawrence, charged with vagrancy. They were arraigned before Judge D. W. Rohrbaugh and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days.

Blake was given 40 days, Blake 30 days and Peterson 25 days. The men are said to have attempted to break into a car loaded with bananas and removed certain apparatus which was essential to proper ventilation. The judge took this into consideration in fixing the fines.

"The men were not vagrants, but they were not better than those for a vagrancy charge."

POLITICAL NOTES Sponsoring the candidacy of W. J. Moorehead for commissioner No. 1 and Mrs. P. J. Kramer, Joseph P. Chandler and John J. # Antone Crash Two Killed in Student Fight

CHICAGO, April 27.—(By International News Service.)—Louis Aubere, Northwestern freshman student, is dead here today and Ralph Williams, Harlan, Ky., another student at the university, was believed to be dying in a hospital following an automobile crash here early today which climaxed a bitter class war at the school.

Seven other persons were hurt in the crash, one of them, Mrs. Arthur D. Winslow Wilmette, was badly cut by flying glass.

The crash resulted when James Leahy, driving an automobile laden with freshmen students at high speed, dashed in front of a car driven by Mrs. Winslow. The students' automobile was flung into a ditch. The student car was trying to block the path of a car filled with sophomores. The crash is the climax, according to university students, of bitter class hatred which had its beginning in the mysterious disappearance in the fall of 1921 of Leighton Hunt, a Northwestern student, who has never been seen since. Yesterday Dick Howell, prominent athlete, and also a freshman, was kidnapped.

James A. Leahy, freshman, was charged with manslaughter as a result of the crash which resulted in the death of Louis Aubere and fatal injuries to Ralph Williams of Harlan, Ky. University authorities dismissed all classes today and ordered a mass meeting of students, as the first step of an investigation.

PEOPLE FOR RECORDS. So today Master-at-Arms W. Braakman and Storekeeper Eddie Davis sent out an appeal to Oakland citizens to bring forward for some of their old records.

"Any kind of old records—it doesn't matter what make," they said. "And it doesn't matter how old they are, or even if they are a little bit cracked. At their worst they'll sound like grand opera when we're inside the Arctic circle after we've been away from everything for several months."

The men, who are in charge of the record collection, are looking for old records of the people in Oakland that have old records will send them to us instead of throwing them away."

GO TO ESKIMOS. The usefulness of the gifts will not end with the cruise of the Bear, for the Eskimos will turn them over to the Eskimos. They do this every year.

The Eskimos who have learned to read at the mission schools in the Arctic and the next twelve months reading them over and over.

The yearly cruise of the Bear is largely one of mercy and of sacrifice and hardship by its officers and crew. They are the only men of the supply of water they require. They finally located in Los Angeles, where the Eskimo citizens have secured an abundance of water through just such a plan as we have before us now.

"The time is short and we people of Oakland must look to the laurels. At a recent meeting of the candidates for the utility district board it was brought out that Richmond Berkeley, Alameda and San Leandro were strong for the utility district board. It also developed that Oakland people seem to be asleep to this, the most important question we have yet had to face."

"Everywhere Oakland is now being spoken of as one of the most progressive cities in the country and a wonderful future is being predicted for us. But if we stop at this point, we are working hard to put it over big. It also developed that Oakland people seem to be asleep to this, the most important question we have yet had to face."

ADJOURNMENT DAY IS IN DOUBT SACRAMENTO, April 27.—(By United Press.)—Reconsideration of the resolution passed last night by the city council, postponing the adjournment of the city council until May 14, was urged in the Assembly today by Speaker Merriam.

"It looks now as if we would be fortunate to have the budget out of the way by the middle of next week," Merriam told the lower house members. "That means it will be May 7 at least before it is approved, since special appropriation bills have to wait until the budget is passed. If we adjourn today, we have no chance for such measures to be put through."

Merriam told the assemblymen he would hold the adjournment until May 7, or so with the possibility of the action by which it was passed being rescinded and the adjournment date left undecided.

The Assembly today passed the Lyons bill, including insanity, a cause for divorce, by a vote of 49 to 10. The measure received no outspoken opposition. Assemblyman Lyons merely explaining its features. Similar bills introduced in past legislatures have been defeated.

Majority of the measures passed today were uncontested. They included: Cleveland—Governor the appointment of rural school supervisors.

Badham—Allowing Los Angeles to enlarge its municipal museum.

RECORDS ASKED BY POLAR GUARD

Sailors Ready for Six Months Cruise in Arctic Want Canned Music.

How would you like to know that some of your old phonograph records that you've grown tired of were helping to lighten the monotony of a six-months' visit inside the Arctic circle for a shipload of Oakland sailors?

Next Wednesday the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Bear will sail from her home port, Oakland, for Point Barrow, the northeasternmost tract of land on the American continent, for her annual cruise in Arctic waters. For at least six months the men of her crew, most of whom are Oakland youths, will be completely out of touch with civilization or entertainment, except what they can carry with them between the decks of their small ship.

Knowing from past experience how monotonous life becomes between watches on the long cruise, the crew determined to prepare against it this year by taking along a phonograph. The dozen young seafarers who comprise the crew managed to raise enough money among themselves to buy a second-hand machine, but there was no money left for records.

So today Master-at-Arms W. Braakman and Storekeeper Eddie Davis sent out an appeal to Oakland citizens to bring forward for some of their old records.

"Any kind of old records—it doesn't matter what make," they said. "And it doesn't matter how old they are, or even if they are a little bit cracked. At their worst they'll sound like grand opera when we're inside the Arctic circle after we've been away from everything for several months."

Intervenor in that action, alleging a priority and asking for the appointment of a receiver.

Assemblyman Donohue today introduced a bill removing supervision of all motor truck and vehicle lines from the State Railroad Commission and giving control to the state and counties. Donohue explained that such a measure is demanded by rural districts, unsatisfied at the manner the Railroad Commission has regulated motor lines.

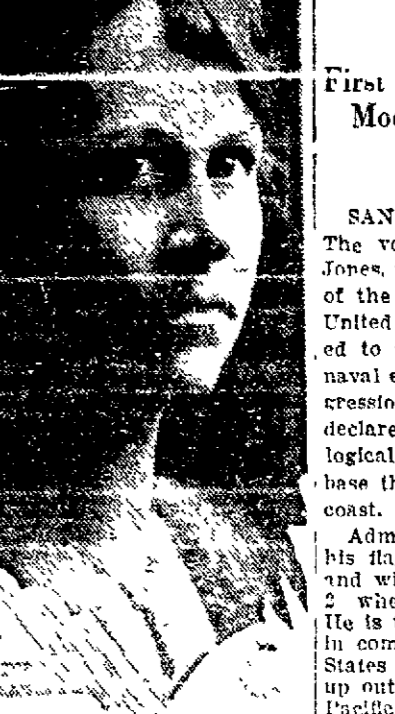

The bill reintroduced A. H. 715, voted by Governor Richardson late yesterday. The measure allowed legislation district franchisees for power purposes and was intended to meet a situation in the counties and trucking districts, which have recently completed a power plant and are ready to distribute power.

Mrs. Broughton said she had secured a large collection of old records, and she was willing to loan them to the sailors.

RANKING ADMIRAL ADDS VOTE FOR ALAMEDA BASE

First Commander-in-Chief of Modern Navy Says Move Is Essential.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—The voice of Admiral Hilary P. Jones, the first commander-in-chief of the home fleets of the modern United States navy, was today added to the chorus of distinguished naval experts and members of congressional commissions, that have declared Alameda to be the only logical site for the great naval base that is needed on the Pacific coast.

Admiral Jones arrived here on his flagship, the U. S. S. Scamper, and will remain in port until May 2, when he will sail for Hawaii. He is the first officer to be placed in command of the unified United States fleet that was recently made up out of the former Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

BASE CALLED ESSENTIAL. "The establishment of a base at Alameda is the only thing that can assure the continuation of the Navy Department's present policy of making the Pacific the headquarters for the United States fleet," Admiral Jones said.

"From the naval point of view more facilities on the west coast for handling the fleet are a vital necessity, and San Francisco bay is the logical place for an operations base which will be capable of taking care of naval repairs and the docking of the battle fleet."

"All technical details that have survived the situation have concentrated on Alameda as the proper place for this operating base. I essentially accept their dictum that Alameda is the proper place for such a base."

"To obtain anything of importance, concentration of effort is needed."

"When this base is scored, San Francisco bay will be the home port of a large part of the fleet. San Pedro will remain the headquarters for gunnery exercises. San Diego will also be used as the headquarters during gunnery practice, but not until it enlarges its harbor. At the present time, it is too small to permit fourteen battleships to anchor there at one time."

Admiral Jones is accompanied on the Scamper by the following members of his staff: Rear Admiral George W. Williams, chief of staff; Captain J. C. Thomas, assistant chief of staff; Commander R. C. Davis, fleet engineer; Commander W. W. Smyth, fleet tactical officer; Commander H. F. Leary, fleet gunnery officer; Commander Benjamin Dunn, fleet secretary; Lieutenant D. W. C. Ramirez, aide-de-camp; Lieutenant Commander A. M. Chasen, fleet radio officer; Captain J. C. Pryor, fleet medical officer; Captain George Brown, fleet pharmacist; Commander R. B. Hillard, fleet constructor.

MONTEREY NOTES

MONTEREY, April 27.—The abalone boats came in Wednesday night with a big catch, and everything was bustle on the municipal wharf yesterday as the various fish packing concerns are preparing the fish for the market. The catches of squid and rock cod were also heavy.

The last of the sardine season pack—some 1000 cases—left this port today on the steamer San Antonio, bound for San Francisco. The last shipment was made by the Carmel Cannery Co. and were a part of the cases which went into the bay when the municipal wharf collapsed, two months ago, to let 20,000 cases of canned sardines slide into Monterey bay.

Eczema Torture

Is one of the curses of modern life which none escape, rich or poor.

It always has to be told by the thickened, cracked or scaly skin or weeping sores from which oozes a clear liquid which causes an intolerable itching, and makes life an unending misery, especially at night.

The old style method of treating the disease was greasy, sticky salves and ointments, simply covering over the skin, thereby giving the parasites a better chance to live underneath.

The treatment of eczema has of late undergone a complete and radical change, and so instead of treating the surface only, a clean, cooling, penetrating lotion may now be applied which gets to the bottom of the trouble and kills the germs, stopping the itching instantly and causing an entirely new skin to grow.

Eczemine

Such a lotion is Eczemine.

Good also for scalp diseases and all sorts of skin troubles and as an antiseptic shaving lotion. 21 and 22 bottles.

SCHOOL FETE IS REVIVED BALLAD OF DEAD STYLES

Old-Time Finery Dug From Attic by Students for "Annual Day."

Mother's girlish gowns, and grandpa's checkered vest were today returned to their own as paragon of fashion at the annual celebration of Old Clothes Day, an institution almost as old as the clothing at the Oakland High school.

Old residents of the city passing the school stopped and rubbed their eyes. Before them paraded old-time sweethearts, school-day chums, boyhood enemies and girlhood fancies. Surely, time had worked some fearful delusion; the burden of age was only a nightmare and they lived again in the spring of youth.

MARKET OF MEMORIES.

But no, the delusion was more fearful than first expected, and the burden of years a painful reality. That was not John Smith they saw, but young John dressed up in old John's clothes, and making himself just as ridiculously conspicuous as his father did in the days gone by. Young Alice wore an older Alice's wedding dress with an inherited staidness of grace suggestive of a dead generation, and caused even the most debonnaire young men about town to chance a second glance in her direction.

An interested audience surrounded the school, the entire day, and somehow the conversation turned into a general old-red-schoolhouse chandel. The puff of the sleeve on a faded masterpiece of yesterday's fashion, or the grotesque shape of a hat of the variety from which Nellie's bird was wont to broadcast remarks of great sagacity, brought to mind incidents long since forgotten, but which were greatly acclaimed in the recollection.

Anna Avilla, a junior student at the school, was attired in a dress that had been the heart's joy of her great-grandmother. Other girls appeared in connections of the same nature. Some of the aspect of the boys' forebears must all have been gamblers of the Diamond Jim caliber or members of the first Virginia legislature.

COSMOPOLITAN COSTUMES.

The composite picture was an ethnological study. One costume suggested the streets of Seville at carnival time, a second the fishing village at Scheveningen, a third the low plains of the Danube and yet another the South in the halcyon days "before the war."

To the students the celebration for the most part meant a day of festivity in anticipation of a victory on the track and field, when Oakland High school athletes meet those of other schools tomorrow.

To the old residents it meant a vivification of fading memories. To the faculty of the school it meant a considerable nuisance.

COULDN'T PAY ALIMONY; WAS BARRED BY "PA"

When Thomas M. Drake, a conductor, went to visit his daughter at the home of his former wife, several months ago, he saw a man whom he described as Ed Burnett, a field agent in the federal prohibition director's office, standing on the steps with an armful of groceries.

"Where do you think you're going," the man asked, according to Drake.

"I'm going to see my daughter," responded Drake.

"Well, you'd better beat it," advised the other. "I'm taking care of this family."

This was the story told in Superior court today by Drake, who was in court to explain why he should not be fined for contempt of court for failure to pay back alimony, amounting to $250, to his former wife, May H. Drake.

The case continued until the facts could be investigated, and attorneys were instructed to have Burnett in court at the next session.

NEW LEAGUE OF NATIONS AIM UP COMING MEET

Plan to Unite All American Countries in Defense Organization.

By GEORGE W. HINMAN, JR., Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Reduction in armaments and a proposal for an American League of Nations, open only to the nations of the new world, are two proposals which will come before the fifth Pan-American Congress at Santiago, De Chile next month.

Eight American delegates, headed by Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Belgium, will sail for Santiago early in March to represent the United States at the conference.

President Harding regards Ambassador Fletcher as an outstanding American diplomatic authority on Latin-American affairs, and for this reason relieved him temporarily of his duties at Brussels, in order that he might head the delegation to Santiago.

U. S. DELEGATES.

Other American delegates will be Senator Frank Kellogg of Minnesota, Senator Allen Pomeroy of Ohio, former Senator Willard Saulsbury of Delaware, George E. Vincent of the Rockefeller Foundation, New York; Frank C. Partridge, diplomat of Vermont; William Eric Fowler of Washington, D. C., and Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union.

Ambassador Fletcher and Dr. Rowe, it is said, are the only delegates with any considerable knowledge of the Spanish language. Secretary of State Hughes expects to accompany the delegates. His status will be merely that of a "distinguished visitor," although of course he is expected to be in close touch with the American delegation at all times.

The plan for an American League of Nations will be presented to the conference by the delegation from Uruguay, which is a member of the league created by the Treaty of Versailles.

IDEA FROM URUGUAY.

The proposed association, according to the Uruguayan plan, would declare itself opposed to any attempt by a non-American nation to extend its political influence in the new world. Such action by a European or Asiatic nation, it is asserted, would be dangerous to the peace and "security of the Americas."

In dealing with such possible attempts to extend political influence, the Uruguayan proposal opposes specifically any form of non-American domination, either in the shape of colonization, mandate or protectorate.

Any action by a non-American nation infringing on the rights of a member of the proposed association would be taken up by the organization.

Membership in the league, according to the Uruguayan scheme, would be open not only to sovereign American states, but also to American islands and territories dependent upon non-American nations. Such colonial states, it is suggested, would be entitled to membership, provided that they maintain diplomatic representation at the capital of an independent American country and provide, further, that they declare definitely their ability to carry out and enforce the obligations of membership.

PURPOSES OF LEAGUE.

The purposes and principles of the proposed league, as outlined by President Bruin of Uruguay are: First, to encourage the idea that international relations are based on principles of justice and solidarity, without regard to differences in race, opinion, language, customs or religion.

Second, to intensify Inter-American friendship, cultivating American solidarity.

Third, to increase friendly relations with non-American nations.

Fourth, to arbitrate or mediate international disputes.

The proposed league would have a president, council, assembly and secretariat. Headquarters would be established at Washington during the formation of the association, after which they would be transferred elsewhere.

Fathers' Challenge Accepted By Sons

Fathers of the Washington school district, through their club, have challenged the boys to a field meet which will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 at Rushford playground. A baseball game will conclude the program of sports. Entries have been made in relay, dashes and jumps. A long-distance race will also be held.

Brum has suggested Panama as the permanent place for the secretariat.

President Bruin has denied the non-American nation to the meeting at Santiago, adding that he did say that Uruguay would be pleased to see all American nations represented. Owing to the fact that the Oregon government has not been recognized by the United States, Mexico will not attend the conference.

A feature of the congress this year has been the attempt of the European League of Nations to have representation at Santiago. The Uruguayan plan, however, learned, was approached on the matter of league representation and declared itself firmly opposed to the presence of such a delegation from a non-American group. From the viewpoint of the Washington government, it was made plain, the meeting at Santiago is purely an American affair, and the intrusion of the Versailles league would be regarded with marked disfavor. Proponents of league representation quickly dropped their plans.

CHEST DRIVE IS EXTENDED FOR WEEK

Many Causes Are Given for Failure to Raise the Fund of $488,000; Workers Are to Be Reorganized

Community Chest—subscriptions for twenty-four hours up to noon today amounted to $41,442. This brings to $328,902 the sum so far subscribed.

"Oakland can raise the $488,000 needed for the Community Chest and Oakland must raise it. We cannot as a community afford to fall down. Therefore, the Community Chest campaign is extended for another week."

With this explanation, J. Cal Ewing, campaign chairman of the Community Chest, announced the extension of the Community Chest campaign for the purpose of obtaining the complete sum asked. During the period intervening before Monday, a reorganization of workers will be effected and a new fighting spirit injected into the campaign. The campaign originally was planned to extend over the period between April 15 and 22. Reports turned in yesterday indicate considerably more than $300,000 has been subscribed. Failure to reach the goal is attributed to a number of reasons. Workers report that many of the citizens seen failed to appreciate the importance of the campaign and failed to give promptly and liberally. As a result, much of their time was wasted in return visits. As a result, much of the time of the campaign workers were not seen.

Another contributing cause to the failure to attain the goal is cited in the intense interest which attended the recent primary election. The battle at the polls diverted interest of workers from the Community Chest. A third element advanced by the workers is the reason why a large number of people were not seen. This was not due to the lack of understanding on the part of the public of the fact that the Community Chest subscriptions cover the work of all the welfare and charity organizations in Oakland for a period of a year.

Under the plan of reorganization, the luncheon, civic and improvement clubs will be utilized in an intensive "mop up" campaign. Organization of these clubs, together with the regular staff of Community Chest workers will be immediately effected and the second phase of the campaign will start Monday. "We are not discouraged," declared Ewing today. "There can be no doubt as to the eventual success of this campaign—we're going to keep after it till we get the money."

Contributions in the Community Chest campaign yesterday set the record for the drive. A list of subscriptions, tabulated under three classes—subscriptions of $100 or more turned in by workers, advance gifts, and employees' subscriptions—was given out for publication as follows:

Additional report of advance gifts committed:

E. M. Walsh, $500; Mrs. E. M. Walsh, $100; S. M. Friedman, $300; Mrs. W. R. Davis, $300; A. M. and Adeline Salinger, $300; John Nichols & Co., $100; and Mrs. T. W. ## CHEST FUND MARSH LAND TEAMS RACE AGAIN SEES FOR LAURELS MUD PUMPED

Groups Headed by R. A. Leet and Louis Scheeline Wage Dash to Finish the Quota for Downtown Districts

With the goal set for the Community Chest less than half way down the stretch, various teams in the race for the highest percentage in collecting the charity funds are making heroic efforts to win the coveted laurels.

The greatest rivalry exists between the teams headed by R. A. Leet and Louis Scheeline, who are canvassing the downtown retail districts. During the opening days of the race, Scheeline's entry centered along easily at the head of the field, taking all honors except those allotted to Mrs. Wallace Alexander, who was the first to win the 100 per cent mark. More recently Leet's team forged to the front. Announcements at the luncheon of the Community Chest workers yesterday showed the Leet team to have secured 85 per cent of their quota of $50,000, while the Scheelines have 69 per cent of a $90,000 quota.

TEAMS AT GRIPS.
A runaway finish was staged by the teams of Mrs. Alexander and Harry E. Miller, both of which went over their quotas with less of room to spare. Now the two organizations are at grips to determine which can first double its quota. Until yesterday, Alexander's squad was an undisputed leader, but the last scurrying showed that the Miller team had crept a little ahead. Miller's lieutenants have earned a percentage of 187 of their quota of $15,000, while the Alexander team has 175 per cent of a quota of $18,000.

400 SPEECHES.
The speakers' bureau is composed of 500 men and women, and has delivered about 400 talks. It is estimated that they have reached 50,000 people with their talks. The subscribers to date total 12,000, a little less than a third of the number estimated to fill the chest. In order to increase the membership in the city's philanthropic fund, the campaign is being carried to the individuals of the community.

Recount in City Election Is to Begin Tomorrow

The recount of the votes in the recent city election will begin tomorrow morning, according to a decision announced today by Superior Judges T. W. Harris and J. J. Trabucco, who sat en banc to hear attorneys present arguments. The procedure is being taken on the petition of David Oliphant, candidate against Mayor John L. Davis. Upon the face of the election returns Davis was declared to have been elected at the primaries by a majority of 95 votes. Oliphant immediately filed a petition for a recount, contesting the election.

Usual judicial procedure in the Alameda county courts will be completely sidetracked when the courts will remain in session throughout the day tomorrow. Usually adjournment is taken at noon on Saturday. There is a possibility that the courts will be in session Sunday also. This question will be decided later today at a conference of the judges.

The question of Sunday sessions was raised when Judge Harris pointed out the necessity for hurrying the recount as much as possible. He stated that it was planned to use seven departments of the Superior Court daily until the recount is over and add this amount to other litigation would suffer through delay. His remarks were met by suggestions from attorneys representing both sides of the recount that the court go on with the recount Sunday. Judge Harris said he would take the matter up with the judges.

Expected opposition to the recount failed to materialize when the case was called today. Judge W. H. Donahue of the firm of Donahue, Hynes and Hamlin, representing Mayor Davis, said they had advised Mayor Davis that the primary law did not apply to the city charter and that, therefore, the recount could have no standing as it had been brought under the provisions of the primary law, instead of those of the city charter. He declared that Mayor Davis had insisted that no obstacle be placed in the way of the recount as he was desirous of seeing the matter finally adjudicated.

Judge Donahue made this statement three times and, on the third

Oakland Loses in Suit On Property

The Rockledge Place Company and Mrs. Edith F. Wright, were awarded $2750 damages against the City of Oakland for the depreciation in value of their property caused by a change in grade of Broadway north of Ocean View Drive. The award of damages was made in a decision rendered today by the third district court of appeal and constitutes the first adjudication in California on the question of whether a property owner who signs a petition for the improvement of the street in front of his property can still claim damages for the depreciation of value of that property. The judgment affirms that of Alameda county superior court.

In the decision today Mrs. Wright was given $2000 damages and the Rockledge Place company $750.

repetition, Judge Harris remarked: "Gentlemen, let's proceed. This is not the time for stump speeches."

It was shown in court that arrangements have been made with the city clerk's office to relay the ballots to the courthouse at a time. There will be three tally clerks and three callers for each court and this will allow three precincts to be counted in each court simultaneously, twenty-one precincts being counted at a time.

CLUB MEMBERS MUST VOTE OR LOSE VOTES

BERKELEY, April 27.—Any member of the Berkeley Business and Professional Women's club who does not vote at Berkeley's municipal election to be held next Tuesday will be forced to do some explaining at the next meeting of the organization.

The Berkeley club has joined with other service organizations of both sexes in the Bay region in a drive to bring out a 100 per cent vote at every election. Mrs. C. B. Kelly, president, declares that at the next meeting each member at roll call will be asked if she has voted and if not, why not. The same ruling will apply to the public utility district election. Mrs. Gladys A. Leggett, member of the club's board of directors, addressed a plea for a representative vote from Oakland service clubs with which the Berkeley club is affiliated at the monthly dinner of the organization held this week.

Residents of Hester Planning Fire Bonds

SAN JOSE, April 27.—Residents of the Hester district, which lies just outside the western city limits of San Jose, have called a mass meeting to be held at the Hester school Monday night and at which plans for the voting of bonds for the purchase of the apparatus to the district will be discussed. An election was held last Tuesday for the same purpose, being defeated by a vote of 105 to 51. Considerable controversy arose following the first election Tuesday, when some residents of the Hester district claimed that the election notices were not posted in conspicuous places.

JAP STAND ON 1915 TREATIES IS CONDEMNED

Observers Acknowledge Legal Rights by Denying the Moral Side.

By DUKE N. FARRY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.
TOKYO, April 26.—"Within the law, but morally wrong"—here is a verdict on Japan's latest message on the Twenty-one Demands, a verdict given by some students of the history of Japan and the question of 1915. When the Gamsho, in Tokyo, Japan's foreign office, gave a firm refusal the other day to the application by China for an abrogation of the 1915 treaties, political Tokyo knew that the Gamsho had the law and a big part of the legal argument on the question on the side of Tokyo. But foreigners who lived in Peking and in Tokyo in the year 1915 are slow to forget the Twenty-one Demands.

Before the second year of the World War was concluded the famous Okuma Cabinet made the Twenty-one Demands on China. Commonly known abroad as South Manchuria, the country involved in the Twenty-one Demands is really the Kwangtung Province and although certain sections of the demands, including that on Shanghai, have already been abrogated. When Japan asked China for the new well-known rights in Shanghai and went further to demand that Japanese hold one of the valuable sections of Asia, namely, the section of South Manchuria railway district and valuable ports of trade, foreign observers in Peking and Tokyo were astonished. Japan asked that she be given a preferential right to a rich district, which she planned to control.

JAPS GAIN CONCESSIONS.

But Japan was granted her demands, despite the fact that Yuan Shih-Kai, dismissed head of a Chinese government, was the Chinese who allowed the deal to be made. Japan threatened force it is said, and some who would defend Japan say that Yuan Shih-Kai himself requested a show of force from Japan in order that he might save his own "face" with the angered people of Peking. There are those in Peking who will say that he desired to save his life.

But Japan will say the deal was just as legal as though with the present government. And Japan began, as Japan did in Shanghai, to prove that Japanese efficiency and Japanese money, which aided the efficiency, were reasons enough for Japan to hold this district. And here is the first of Japan's reasons for claiming domination in all Asia.

SANCTIMONIOUS PLEA.

To take the two sides of the case, reason by reason, would be a lengthy effort indeed. It is enough to realize that Japan presents the following statement in the preface to her claims for world approval of her most recent refusal to give back South Manchuria to the Chinese. "The Chinese communication to Tokyo, coming as it does following the settlement of an international question, is 'contaminated' by accepted principles of international intercourse."

To the nations of the world there is doubtless keen interest in what Japan and China are doing today. On one side is China, a culture already in Shantung in that that province is today reverting to the deplorable conditions obtaining in interior China, China without a steady government and herself a blank page before the world of finance. China is admittedly unable to handle what she has, without mention of what she might get. Across the Sea of Japan is the government of Tokyo, well to do, efficient, backed by men of keen business sense and handled by diplomats who have given their diplomacy well. Japan possessing her grants in South Manchuria by treaties that must be termed legal in the eyes of the world. And yet Japan received her grants by the violation of previous international agreements, a claim she dares to throw back today at China.

No Wild Parties Will Figure in Hollywood Film

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON, United Press Staff Correspondent.
LOS ANGELES, April 27.—What girl wouldn't be thrilled at suddenly being selected to be but to have the leading part in a picture called "Hollywood"? That's how Hope Brown feels about it. She has been selected from comparative obscurity in amateur dramatics to play the leading part in a Famous Players picture which is to depict Hollywood life on the screen.

In the picture, all the Famous Player-Lasky stars and directors will appear in some capacity or another, and most of the scenes will be taken on the Lasky lot.

The picture is to show an Iowa girl coming to Hollywood to break into the movies as an "extra" and to picture her experiences at the studios, and in working her way bit by bit in various small parts to stardom. Hollywood is to be a nice, staid, work-a-day place. Not a single "sugar bowl" party or "dope" scene is to appear, and there will be no scenes showing any of the wild parties for which the town has gained repute.

Be Lazy and You Will Be Happy Says Philosopher

LONDON, April 7.—The world would be better off if it were lazier. This interesting, almost intriguing, philosophy, comes from Bertrand Russell, well known English thinker and philosopher. If the world wouldn't hurry so and would spend more time lying on its back, Russell declares, it would be better off. Russell declares, "Men who work just enough to keep themselves alive are the happiest and the best."

Busy workers generally get into mischief, their energy flows in directions where it does not do the most good, says the philosopher and friend of the lazier. "I think you will agree with me that the incultivation of laziness would be the most hopeful of moral crusades," Russell declared. "I do not agree," he said, "that anyone should work fewer people than at present should work at all. The working life of any man who is highly paid is sure to be quite contrary to human nature. If we all worked under the spur of hunger we should be much better. In China a man just does enough work to get his living and then lies in the sun and enjoys himself. Are we happier than he? 'Self-government in industry' should be used for the purpose of producing more leisure rather than for the producing of more goods. Day by day we become much more hustled than we used to be."

Norway Shaken By Financial Troubles

CHRISTIANA, Norway, April 27. (By Associated Press.)—Norway's financial markets are greatly disturbed, and in consequence several of the big banks have been placed under public administration.

The Central Bank has losses estimated at 28,000,000 kroner, due to the failure of other banks and engagements in great industrial and mining enterprises. These misfortunes caused a run on the banks, but there was no general panic.

MAY 1 PAGEANT UNDER VETERANS

Growth of American Institutions to Be Shown at Idora Park.

Depicting the growth of American institutions, a colorful pageant presented under the direction of J. Fred Anderson, director of Americanization in the Oakland schools, will be one of the features of the first annual Americanization day of the Veterans of the Foreign Wars at Idora Park next Tuesday afternoon, May Day.

More than a hundred school children will take part in the pageant and the Italian, Spanish and other European folk dances and songs that have influenced American customs will be part of the production. An elaborate musical setting will be provided by a chorus of 200 school children under the direction of Glen Woods, head of the music department in the Oakland schools, and by the school bands from Oakland, Fremont, Technical High schools and Lockwood school.

Judge Lincoln S. Church, before whom would-be citizens make application for citizenship, will give a short address on Americanization at the opening of the pageant.

Pupils from the seventh and eighth grades in the schools throughout the city and the high schools will be dismissed early Tuesday afternoon so they can participate in the observance. Besides the school children public officials, fraternal organizations and civic clubs will join the veterans in their celebration.

Representing the Oakland Kiwanis club a committee including R. J. Campbell, Hal Boland, A. Evers, Bob Edgar and Clark Norwalk will assist in the celebration. Charles L. Fisher, commander of

CITY EMPLOYEES WARNED TO PAY INDEBTEDNESS

Refusing to be bothered by visits from creditors of policemen or firemen in the city service, Commissioner Frank Colbourn today issued a notice to all the sections of the department of public health and safety, calling attention to the ordinances which compel city employees to meet their obligations or face dismissal.

"I refuse to be a collection agency," says Colbourn, "and I refuse to be bothered by the importunities of collectors. If the men in our departments cannot keep out of trouble of this sort, I have the power to discharge and I will in extreme cases; but I do not want collection agents to think that this means they can run to the city and I will threaten dismissal unless private bills are paid. But I do wish that city employees would unanimously keep their accounts straight."

Colbourn's latest letter to his departments is the result of visits of collection agents trying to make a fireman pay certain bills, according to Colbourn, who says that in these cases look rather stormy for the fireman.

Funeral Services For Berkeley Girl

BERKELEY, April 27.—Funeral services were conducted this morning at St. Joseph's church for Miss Marie W. Wahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wahl, 1825 Cedar street, a former student at the University of Nevada. Miss Wahl's death occurred at a San Francisco hospital after failing health had caused her to give up her college studies. She was 21 years of age and besides her parents is survived by one brother, George Wahl, and two sisters, Esther and Helen Wahl.

Haskell F. Waterhouse Post, American Legion, is general chairman in charge of the arrangements for the day.

IN SEARCH OF TWO BIG CONVENTIONS

Republican Committeeman of California Opens Campaign for Big Meet.

CHICAGO, April 27.—(By Associated Press).—William Crocker, Republican National Committeeman of California, was in Chicago for a few hours today with no less determination than that of landing both the Republican and Democratic National Conventions for San Francisco next year.

Incidentally Crocker let it be known that $250,000 was assured to back up the Golden Gate City invitation to both parties. While here he conferred with Fred W. Upham, national treasurer of the Republican party and for nearly twenty years chairman of the Republican Convention committee.

Upham assured Crocker that his invitation to the Pacific Coast was appreciated, and that inasmuch as the Republicans never had held their national convention in San Francisco a visit there doubtless would prove a very satisfactory affair.

It was pointed out, however, that many considerations enter into the selection of the convention city and that the national committee does not meet until December. Upham let it be known that while the hospitality of San Francisco was most inviting, he would feel it necessary to support the claim of Chicago should this city make its usual strong bid for the Republican gathering.

Other cities also are expected to seek the Republican and Democratic conventions, although San Francisco is in early with $250,000 bid. Crocker left shortly after noon for New York and Washington to continue his missionary work.

Wallet Untouched On Busy Corner

BOSTON, April 2.—For nearly an hour a wallet containing $350 lay unnoticed at the corner of Tremont and Winter streets. Thousands of pedestrians passed during the afternoon rush, but no one noticed or picked up the wallet.

John Brown, who came to the city to do some shopping and who lost the wallet, upon discovering his loss hurried through the crowd for ten or fifteen blocks and found his wallet where he had dropped it.

"I do not love you, but I have been a good pretender," Paul F. Meriam, an inspector for a water company, told his wife, Ida R. Meriam, according to her suit for divorce on file in the Superior Court.

The wife says Meriam asked her to go to Reno and get a divorce so he could marry his soulmate. She asks to be given $100 a month for support of herself and three children, Kenneth, 7; Dorothy, 5, and Robert, aged 3.

Split in Ownership Starts Suit On Tax

Whether C. H. Melquiond can recover from Miss M. Seigel $250 in taxes which he paid on property when he owned the lot and Miss Seigel owned the building, is a legal problem before Judge Harry W. Puleifer in justice court. The plaintiff claims the total tax on the improved property was assessed to him, but that Miss Seigel should pay her share. Miss Seigel contests the suit on the ground that it was agreed that the plaintiff was to pay all the taxes when she leased the lot for ten years at a rental of $100 a month.

ST. # WIFE COLLAPSES AGAIN IN COURT AS SUIT CLOSES

Meyers Divorce Tangle Taken
Under Advisement;
Ruling Tuesday.

Superior Judge James G. Quinn today has under advisement the divorce action of Lillian Meyers against Edwin P. Meyers, official of a labor paper, which has been going on in his court for several days. Decision will be rendered next Thursday.

The closing moments of the trial were replete with dramatic interest. For the second time during the hearing Mrs. Meyers fainted and became hysterical, it being necessary again to take her to the receiving hospital.

Mrs. Meyers sued Meyers, naming Mrs. May as co-defendant, claiming a cross complaint in which he named C. A. Mareno, proprietor of a printing establishment and a past president of Piedmont Parlor, N. S. G. The testimony developed admissions from all four that Mrs. Meyers and Mrs. Burton had been on auto trips together as had Mareno and Mrs. Meyers.

"MY HANDSOME MAN."
Mrs. Burton was a witness on behalf of Mrs. Meyers yesterday. While admitting that she had taken trips with Mrs. Meyers she said that she was always at Mrs. Meyers' insistence and invitation.

She told of a trip which she made to Lake Tahoe with Mareno and Mrs. Meyers. Asked concerning the attitude of the two she replied: "They acted as if they were on their honeymoon. She called him 'my handsome man' and 'honey,' while he called her 'angel.'"

Mrs. Burton told of an occurrence in the home of the Meyers when Mrs. Meyers took some money from Mareno's pocket, according to the witness.

"SPANKING DESCRIBED."
The witness, after leaving the house, finally caught her, turned her over his knee, and spanked her," said Mrs. Burton.

Mrs. Burton declared that once when Mrs. Meyers was cooking dinner she spoke of her husband saying, "If I knew what to give the old bird to put him out of his misery I would do it." Mrs. Burton said that Mareno, who was present, remarked, "There isn't anything strong enough."

Mrs. Burton on the stand and during his testimony he suddenly turned to Judge Quinn saying:

"Your honor, can you read lips?" "No," answered the court.

"Well, I can," said Mrs. Burton, "and I just saw Mr. Mareno call me a liar." Judge Quinn cautioned the litigants, witnesses and spectators to maintain decorum in the court room.

"Who won the championship at the last Olympic games?" "E. L. F. scored the most points and was unofficially accepted as the champion. No official team championship is recognized, however, under the present rule which provides that only individual event championships shall be awarded."

"What is the matter with George Sisler?" "E. P. H. Sisler pulled the muscles in his shoulder in one of the late games of the season last year and he was then stricken with an attack of the flu during the winter which left him with what doctors described as a sinus affection of the eye. It is understood that the eye trouble caused him to see double and made it impossible for him to take a throw or see the delivery of a pitcher at the plate. An operation may correct the ailment. It is not known definitely how long it will take him to recover or that he ever will be able to play again."

"Who was the greatest football player of all time?" "FOOTBALL FAN. It is just as difficult to name the greatest football player of all time as it is to name the greatest baseball player, the greatest basketball player, the greatest tennis player, etc. Opinions vary with the individuals. Jim Thorpe, however, is generally regarded as the greatest. Dr. Charles Bull, one of the Yale coaches, said last fall that he had never seen a football player who could do everything as well as George Owen, the Harvard captain and all-around star."

"What is the champion sculler of the world?" "B. B. W. Walter Hoover, of Duluth, who won the 'Diamond Sculls' race in England last summer, holds the title of world's champion."

"What are the nationalities of the world's ring champions?" "L. L. Jack Dempsey is of Irish extraction; Mike McTigue is Irish; Jack Malone is of Irish descent; Johnny Wilson is Italian; Mickey Walker is of Irish descent; Benny Leonard is Jewish; Johnny Kilbane is Irish; Johnny Dundee is of Italian descent; Joe Lynch is of Irish descent; Frankie Genaro is of Italian parentage, and Jimmy Wolfe is Welsh."

"What is a 'shift outfield' and who was the first manager to try it?" "C. A shift outfield is the use of a certain combination of outfielders against left-handed and right-handed pitching. Where a club has five or six first-class outfielders, the 'shift outfield' sometimes gives a manager the material to put three left-handed batters against a right-handed pitcher and three right-handed batters against a left-handed pitcher. As far as is known, this Speaker was the first to obtain success with the shift. John McGraw may try it this year with the Giants, as he has six outfielders."

"A LINEN TEST. Rub a large sample of linen hard between the hands. If a fuzzy nap appears, cotton is present."

The story is that because of certain happenings when Henry was a member of the Mobile team last fall he didn't care to show up in the new team and have certain old associates.

JUBILEE'S PARLOR by Judd Mortimer Lewis Illustrations by Edwinna

Me and Jubilee had got almost to the corner when we heard someone holler.

There is always one time when a fella is glad every week. That is on Saturday. He is a little glad on Friday because the next day is going to be Saturday.

When I was milking the cow this morning I tied the can on my wireless to my head so it would stay over my ear without my hanging onto it. The cow looked around at me and then she turned back and started to eat. Then she turned around and watched me a long time. If she had laughed I would of blamed her one with the stool, but she didn't. I bet she knows that even if my wireless don't work I am a darn sight smarter than she is or any other cow.

I went around past Youniss after breakfast and was turning a couple of hundredweight in front of her house so as to keep in training, and she came out to go to school. I was very much surprised when I straightened up and found out that I was in front of her house. So was

Lights on the Border

TODAY'S SHORT STORY BY Ad Schuster

"I THOUGHT," Ed Wyle commented with mock disgust, "you said we were going into the wilderness. Already I have seen mountain cabins lighted with electricity and at least one blimp party girl."

Captain Stewart smiled. "There are pretty girls wherever you go and why shouldn't they have electric lights? It is in this country the power is harnessed. The big cities below get their juice from these streams."

Up near the Canadian border Ed and the police captain were enjoying their vacation fishing and hunting and pretending to forget all the worries and the mysteries of city life.

"All the same," Ed remarked as he looked across a clearing at the home of Edie Larsen, "there is something about that girl that is queer."

"Wasn't it agreed there would be no detective stunts?"

"One can speculate, can't he?" I am saying that the girl is out of this picture. She does not dress nor act like the daughter of a poor farmer and her date keeps hidden most of the time. How do you suppose he marks enough money to keep her looking like that? Why is she content to stay? I'd give a lot to see the inside of that house."

"Think there is a still there, don't you? Well there isn't—for no one has visited the place, at least in the daytime."

"That's it. What goes on at night? I did think it was still, but that I did."

"I would have to drive up for the stuff and there are no fresh tracks. If anybody comes it is on foot. How far is this from Canada?"

"If it is smuggling," the captain answered, reading the others' thoughts, "you will have to remember that is outside our jurisdiction."

"All the same, I'm going to sit up tonight and keep watch."

Ed sat in a chair tipped against the cabin and watched the other house across the clearing. The usual light burned steadily and the young man noticed the house was so situated that it could be seen down the valley. There has been a light there since, however, there would have to be one—Hello!

The light was behaving strangely. No, it was another light. From the window came flashes, intermittent. Ed could see the girl moving—more flashes. It was a code.

It took but a moment to rouse the captain and the two watched. The flashes stopped.

"Pretty bold, I call it, to try a thing like that. They must have counted us as simple or asleep. Yet what can we do?"

"I'm going to go over there and lie low, wait for the fellow to come, if that is what the signals meant. He's going to bring something over the line, mark my words."

Cautiously Ed crept up to the neighboring house. It was almost pitch dark and there was no noise except the hooting of an owl. For a long time Ed listened wondering why an owl always hoots three times.

"The first one," he decided, "is a sort of clearing of the throat and the third is the finished product." A stick cracked behind the lad and he jumped as if a gun had gone off. A tall shadow loomed out of the shadow and Ed was seized.

"What you doing here?"

"I was watching you, I think I saw you up!" It was the father

My Marriage Problems

How ALLEN DRAKE HELPED MADGE PASS THROUGH HER ORDEAL.

The kitchen door opened and I judged to be the result of the from it came a little procession of looking she had received at the hands of Smith. I turned the key in the door we had locked behind us to keep her from nervous fears, and opening it softly, peeped in.

I was surprised to see that Katie, with the traces of frightened tears upon her face, was fast asleep. Her mouth was open and she was breathing with some difficulty, but I saw that because of her utter exhaustion she in all probability would not waken for hours. I was free to go to the place of all others until the doctor came, and then I wished to be at Lilian's side in the contest of wit and will she was starting with the man who called himself Smith.

I stooped over Katie, assured myself again that she was all right until the doctor came, and then I entered it again looking the door, and made my way quickly down the stairs to the library.

Outside the door I hesitated for a moment. I remembered my own coming. And then I remembered that she had said "I don't mind you folks," and I resolutely turned the knob and entered the room.

Put your hands underneath his head, Mrs. Graham, Allen Drake said. "Here, where this one of mine is. That's right. Now I can manage him better, at your service. Can you go upstairs backward?"

"Yes," I was forced to make my answer. I came in with a so stiff that I could not have brought another syllable out.

"Good!" Mr. Drake rejoined. "I want to keep her head higher any weight upon you. Your job will be keeping steady, that's all."

But I found that keeping steady was a man's job in a way. While Mr. Drake certainly underestimated the weight which would come upon me. At every step I felt as if the whole weight of the universe had settled into my hands, cupped beneath his head. And when I finally reached the top of the stairs I could have described my mental and physical condition only in Mrs. Tice's homely phrase, "Ready to drop."

I walked steadily down the hall with the rest, however, but I was glad indeed when I saw what the limp pathetic figure of young Mr. Chester upon the bed—Allen Drake dismissed me.

"You came through that splendidly, Mrs. Graham," he said perfunctorily, his eyes upon Tom Chester's unconscious face. "And now you can get a 'y to Katie if she needs you. We must get this boy undressed and into bed. Let me see. Is there everything we need here?"

He ran a practiced eye over the room, lingering a second upon the table drawn up by the bed.

"I must congratulate you and Mrs. Underwood," he said, "Every thing is complete."

He stepped over one door, held it open for me, and I sped down the hall to Katie's room, with the guilty consciousness that I had not once thought of my poor little maid since I had left her.

I listened at her door for a moment, heard nothing but the gasping, heavy breathing, modified by a curious whistling sound which I

Squaring the In-Law Triangle. Dorothy Dix Says Older Woman Must Adopt Role of Peacemaker.

Mother-in-Law Must Cease to Meddle and Give Advice Before She Can Expect to Be Welcomed by the Young Couple

If a survey of real, throbbing heartaches could be made, it would be found that in-laws cause most of the trouble in the world.

THE FEAR OF THE IN-LAW IS THE SKELETON AT EVERY MARRIAGE FEAST.

GREAT tragedies, great sorrows, great misfortunes, terrible as they are to endure, are not so unbearable and do not so poison all life as does the constant, daily, hourly friction between in-laws who hate each other.

STATISTICS show that mothers-in-law are the chief cause of divorce, and that innumerable other families that never get quite to the divorce court, the perpetual warring between mother-in-law and son-in-law, or mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, makes the home a place of torment and strife.

THE fear of the in-law is the skeleton at every marriage feast. It is what makes the bride and the groom turn pale as they look at the new mothers they are acquiring, and it is what causes the mothers to quake with fear as they gaze upon the young creatures who have it in their power to make them so miserable, and who are likely to make such brutal use of this power.

OF course no woman should go to live with her in-law. It is a foolhardy risking of her own and her child's happiness, because in the conflict between a mother-in-law and a son-in-law, or a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law, it is the woman's own daughter or son who is torn to pieces.

Necessity, however, knows no law, and sometimes a woman is bound to live with her in-law because she has no other place in which to lay her head. The question, then, becomes one of how to make the best of a bad situation.

So far as the merits of the quarrel between in-laws stand, it is a fifty-fifty proposition. There are quite as many disagreeable sons-in-law as there are unpleasant mothers-in-law. There are just as many mean, hateful, nagging daughters-in-law as there are mean, hateful, nagging mothers-in-law, and it is just as much the duty of the party of the first part to try to be tactful and courteous and agreeable to the party of the second part as it is the other way around.

But the difficulty in real life is that it doesn't pay to wait for justice to be done, and we can never collect what is due us. It is always the condition, and not the theory, with which we have to live.

This puts the in-law problem up to the mother-in-law to solve. It is no more her business to do so than it is the business of the young ones. Only if it is done, she must do it.

SHE must do it because she is the one in this poignant human triangle who is best fitted to do it. She is older, wiser, more experienced, more far-seeing. Life, unless she is an utter fool, has disciplined her and taught her self-control and finesse and tact.

UNFORTUNATELY the mother-in-law does not often see the situation from this point of view. The arrogance of age makes her set herself upon a pedestal and expect youth to bow before it. Just because she is older, she demands that her in-laws make all the concessions. They must make the advances, they must consult her, they must defer to her wishes and judgment, they must handle her with velvet gloves.

And youth doesn't know how to do it. Youth lacks adroitness. It lacks perception. It lacks philosophy, and a sense of humor, and patience and understanding, and a thousand other qualities that it needs to enable it to skate over the thin ice of a delicate domestic difficulty without breaking through. It takes years and years of study and living to turn out a finished diplomat, and that is what every successful in-law must be.

THERE is a general belief among mothers that the youths and maidens who marry their sons and daughters come into their families with chips on their shoulders. This is a mistake. Most young people are anxious for mother-in-laws to approve them, and they respond enthusiastically to her overtures; but if she wants a fight, she can have it. Mother-in-law can pass out the olive branch or nail up the black flag, just as she chooses.

CONSIDERING the profits and emoluments that will be hers if she wins the affections of her in-laws, and the bitterness and sorrow that will be her portion if she incurs their dislike, it is strange that so few women ever think it worth while to take the trouble of making friends instead of enemies of their children's husbands and wives. It is such a simple thing to do. It just calls for a little forbearance, a little self-effacement, a few kind words, a little appreciation.

Every woman knows generally from her own experience that the thing that renders mother-in-law the most unwelcome guest that ever comes under any roof is her uncompanionable mania for bossing. She's bound to put her finger in every pie. She interferes with everything that everybody does. She hands out advice by the ton.

EVERY woman knows that young people loathe this beyond measure, and that nothing on earth so gets on their nerves like being told just where to get on and where to get off. They feel that they have a perfect right to manage their own affairs in their own way. Moreover, they do have this right, and any mother who will respect it, and who will neither give advice, nor meddle with the housekeeping, cannot only get along with her in-laws, but they will arise and call her blessed.

IT is the mothers-in-law who must be the peacemakers and keep the peace. It is not that they win their in-laws, but they keep their own children.

Uncle Wiggily

Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S WIRELESS.

"Nurse Jane, are you going out today?" asked Uncle Wiggily of his muskrat lady housekeeper one morning.

"Why, yes, Wiggily. I expect to go over and call on Mrs. Wibblewobble, the lady duck," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzey. "Is there anything you would like me to get you?" she inquired.

"Thank you, no, but when are you going?" asked Uncle Wiggily, and it appeared to Nurse Jane that he was rather anxious like and eager.

"Oh! I'll be going soon," spoke the muskrat lady. And as she started away from the hollow stump bungalow she said to herself, "I wonder why Uncle Wiggily was so anxious to have me go out. He must want me to bring him something. He's up to some mischief, or trick, I'm sure. I wonder what it is?"

And if she had only known! For no sooner had Nurse Jane gone out than the bunny rabbit gentleman darted to a closet, and from it he took some wires, electric batteries and other funny little jiggers that he had secretly brought home from time to time, hiding them in the dark place.

"Now for my wireless!" exclaimed the bunny rabbit.

There you have the secret! Uncle Wiggily was going to put up a new wireless radio set so he and Nurse Jane could listen to bedtime stories themselves, instead of always taking part in them.

"I ought to be able to get San Francisco and Los Angeles on this hook-up, to say nothing of Davenport, Ia., and WJZ from the Waldorf-Astoria," said the rabbit gentleman, as he tinkered with the wires and set the varometer play tag with the grid leak.

After some little work Uncle Wiggily had his wireless set up, and putting the telephone receiver over his ears, he began to listen in. At first he heard nothing, but, after turning the handles and knobs, he caught the sound of a wire buzzing and a far-off voice said:

"This is station A.B.C.D.E.F.G. located at Wickettunk, Old York. Our next selection—"

And then it sounded as if a lot of tin pans were sliding down the banister railing in the cellar and trying to play tag with the coal bin.

"Something wrong here," spoke Uncle Wiggily, jiggling the ground wires and putting a bit of slither plaster over the secondary. "But I'll try another hook-up and see what that does."

Well, the bunny rabbit gentleman was working away, to give his wireless perfect so. Nurse Jane could enjoy it when she came home, and all of a sudden there was a sound at the kitchen door.

Uncle Wiggily did not hear it, for he had the telephone receiver over his ears. But the noise continued. It was a scratching-scratching sound and it was made by the toe nails of the Skilley Scallery Alligator. He came over the kitchen oil cloth. For the Alligator had sneaked into the hollow stump bungalow, intending to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears.

INDIAN REBELLION IS SET UP IN HEART OF DIXIE WILDS

Remnants of Cherokees Run Own Nation in Smoky Mountains.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 27.—(United Press)—High in the heart of the Great Smoky mountains of North Carolina the last of the once powerful Cherokee Indian nation has set up an Indian Republic. Hemmed in on all sides by the Great Smoky range of the Appalachians the remnants of what was once one of the strongest Indian tribes in North America have established their own government on a 65-acre reservation set aside by the United States.

A chief, selected at intervals from the leaders of the tribe, heads the Indian government. Assisted by an advisory council elected from the members of the tribe, the chief settles all civil disputes, petty differences and business transactions of the tribe.

The Indian rule is practically independent of the state and federal governments. State officials take no part in the administration of justice by the Indians, as long as their government does not conflict with existing laws.

The Indians are descendants of a small tribe of Cherokees who refused to accept civilization from the mountain homes when the Cherokee Nation surrendered its lands east of the Mississippi and migrated to Oklahoma in 1835.

This tribe fled into the almost impenetrable fastnesses of the Great Smoky mountains and remained hidden in the wilderness several years ago the government made them a reservation on which they now have set up an almost independent government.

Shut from the softening influences of civilization by the Great Smoky range, the Indians have been slow to pick up modern farming and business methods. Their farms are still tilled with the help of oxen and their business transactions are carried out in the manner of a half century ago.

Recently, however, the Indians have shown an inclination to mingle with the outside world and have made great strides in education and agriculture. A highway from Knoxville, Tenn., across the Great Smoky range and thence to the Atlantic coast is expected to throw open the Indian territory to further development.

Root Plads for Court Borah Fights U. S. Entry

Tribunal Highest Point Yet Reached Against War, Jurist Says.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASER WIFE TO TRIBUNE
WASHINGTON, April 27.—Supporting President Harding in his contention that the United States should participate in the permanent court of international justice, Elihu Root last night told the American Society of International Law that the question presented by the President's message to the Senate was really only a question of moral support.

"The amount of contribution toward the support of the court is determined by our own Congress," Root said. "We undertake to do nothing and to give nobody authority or power to do anything to us. The question is merely whether we shall give our moral approval to the establishment of the same kind of court which our government has been urging for a generation."

Root said, in part:

"I wish to express my warm agreement with what Senator Borah has recently said about outlawry of war. To it I end I sincerely hope that the approval of the United States may be given to the international court which represents the highest point yet reached by agreement of the nations in affording the same substitute for war by judicial decision of international cases that has been so effective in doing away with private war among individuals."

LAW AGAINST AGGRESSION.

I hope also that following upon that approval the influence of the United States will be employed to bring about a new conference of all the nations entitled to take part in the making of international law, to formulate and agree upon the amendments and additions, which should now be made to the league, to express views and to extend the law to subjects not now adequately regulated.

I look forward with confidence to the time when the rule of law, formulated and accepted as universal law, will be the basis of aggression to be criminal violations of the law of nations. I look forward to the time when the refusal of any nation proposing war to submit to an impartial court the decision of the question whether facts exist to justify it in war upon defensive grounds will be deemed a confession of guilt; and I look forward to the time when the universal opinion of civilization will visit upon such aggressors its swift and heavy condemnation against which no nation can prevail.

War cannot be outlawed by proclamation or by resolution or by mere agreement, or by mere force. War can be outlawed only by arraying the moral force of the civilized world in support of definite rules of conduct which exclude war, and by giving to that moral force institutions through which that force may be applied to specific cases of attempted violation. One of those necessary institutions is a court by whose judgment the great multitude who desire the peace of justice may know what is right and what is wrong.

DIFFERENT FROM LEAGUE.

Asserting that the proposal that the United States should join the World Court was quite different from that providing for membership in the League of Nations, Root said:

"The two different proposals approach the great problem of preserving peace from different angles and by different methods. They differ radically in their nature and their effects."

Root then pointed out that it was the honorable obligation of each individual taking part in the proceedings of the League's council and assembly to serve as a diplomat agent for his own country with "none of that special personal obligation which constrains the conscience of a judge upon his oath and his self-respect to decide upon controversy in accordance with law and the facts without subordination to political power." He added:

The court of international justice, on the other hand, completely excluded the essential characteristics of the league organization and procedure. No diplomatic agreement is sought or attained. No member of court represents, or is in any way representative of any State whatever. Their duty is not to deal with policies or agreements, but to decide questions of fact and law in cases where the obligation is not to represent his country, or any country, not to execute the orders of any foreign office, not to reflect the policy of any government, but upon his head to bring to bear his own mind and decide upon the evidence and the law in accordance with his own personal judgment.

Portland Boy

(By International News Service)
PORTLAND, April 27.—A seven-year-old Portland boy has a voice so remarkably musical that he may become the American Caruso or Titta Ruffo.

He is Gail DeLoe, and he has heard him sing say it is the most perfect beauty he has ever come to their notice. It is mature in color and different from the usual "boy soprano."

Little Gail has more than voice. He has what musicians term "perfect pitch" and can sing anything he hears in the next instant without the aid of accompaniment. Whether his voice will be tenor or baritone is not known, but critics say it will eventually attract the ears of the music-loving world.

The lad was "discovered" by James H. Price, manager of the Pilgrim Boys' Chorus. Price was strolling through the park blocks here one afternoon and was attracted by a tiny boy singing "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

Instead of going by, Price stopped and listened enraptured. He learned that the boy is the son of a lumber-camp employee, and that he loves music of all kinds. Some time ago Gail heard the tune, "Junita," and asked his mother to sing it to him. When she sang, he was found sobbing on the sofa over the sad fate of Junita's lover.

Price secured the services of a professional teacher of voice, who endeavored to coach the boy. "I don't know what to do," she said, "but he will some day be famous."

ACIATIC UNDER GREAT PROBLEM FOR THE FUTURE

Teeming Millions Cause of Political, Economic and Social Questions.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND, Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, April 27.—More than one half of the human race lives in Asia, but the distribution of the population over the continent is very uneven. Whereas the steppes of Siberia and Central Asia are thinly populated, India, China and Japan are teeming beehives of humanity where an average of 10 to 15 per cent of the entire Asiatic population.

In no other part of the world are such drastic divergences to be found in official statistics as those dealing with the population of Northern Siberia and certain provinces in China and Bengal.

This powerful congestion in Japan, China and India, taken in conjunction with the high birth rates of these countries, gives rise to problems of a political, economic and social nature, which will increase rather than diminish as time goes on, according to an interesting survey of this subject made by Albin Michel in the current number of "Die Glocke."

The more these three densely populated countries are drawn into the world's capitalist web and the greater the facilities for intercourse and traffic, the greater will be the unrest among the masses, and the stronger will be the impulse of a large percentage of the native laborers to break away from their old surroundings and seek remunerative employment elsewhere.

IMMIGRATION HEAVY.

Chinese emigration has been heavy during the past few decades. Chinese coolies are at work on the railroads of North America and the new lines being constructed in the west of Africa, they are galley slaves in the gold mines of South Africa; laborers on the plantations of the Antilles group, in Brazil, Peru and Chile; and when the transoceanic liners reach dock they discharge hordes of Chinese stokers and coal-heavers.

The European war gave a fresh impulse to Chinese immigration, although by no means as many coolies could be transported to England and France as was at first contemplated. Drove of them made their appearance in both Asia and European Russia between the years 1914-1917, they were to be found as far north as Archangel and the Peninsula of Kola in the White Sea; they were employed in the construction of the Muralm railroad, were put to work in the vast forest districts, in the mines, the spinning mills, who used on the farms and railroads everywhere replacing the Muscovites who were thus liberated for military service.

Japan has a far greater population problem on her hands, owing to the fact that her birth average about 700,000 a year. To be sure, there are sparsely settled districts in both Formosa and Korea, which would serve as admirable outlets for Japanese colonists were it not that neither of these appear to the Japanese for the reason that the climate of Korea is too cold, and that of Formosa too warm.

CHINESE NUMEROUS.

China has all it can do to accommodate her own teeming population and the Japanese have turned their eyes to Mexico, now that the United States has introduced such drastic legislation against Japanese immigration.

Japan's immigration has decreased since the war although Brazil, for example, is offering a special premium of about $75 for every Japanese laborer. From 6,000 Japanese emigrants in the year 1913, the 1921 quota had receded to 1,000.

The number of Japanese laborers at present in foreign countries is estimated at between six and seven hundred thousand, but since these figures were published, it is safe to say that the million mark has been reached.

In British India the situation is quite different, here there seems to be but little inclination to emigration, and thus the question of a congested population remains.

The canine hovered between life and death for a time, veterinarians say. Archibald's troubles were complicated by the fact that a knot had been tied in the garter.

"Try what?" asks Tom, questioningly.

"A mid-afternoon cup of Coffee," was Bill's reply. "Listen to this—I cut it out of a newspaper last night."

"Right at the peak of the day's duties it pays to pause for a chummy, cheery cup of Coffee. It is a stimulus to effort in the office or in the home—it coaxes cheerful spirits and clear-thinking for the rest of the day."

"Sounds good," admitted Tom, "and I'd like to try it, too. Let's go. It will only take a few minutes, and this surely has been a tough day."

Every afternoon now, Bill Jones and Tom Griffith go out for a good hot cup of Coffee.

"Greatest thing in the world for business men," says Bill, while Tom nods approvingly. "It lifts you up mentally and physically and gets you by the zero hour that comes in every busy day. I do more work now from four to five or five-thirty than I used to do all afternoon."

Pepper Supports Harding Proposal

NEW YORK, April 27.—America's foreign policy should be the outcome of a substantially unanimous verdict pronounced by the jury of American public opinion, Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania said last night at the dinner of the bureau of advertising, American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

ponent of the League of Nations, also addressed the gathering.

"The best way to unify American public opinion," Senator Pepper said, "is to talk to the machinery and to focus discussion upon the substance of the issue which America ought to bear to the rest of the world. President Harding has just rendered a notable service by emphasizing the importance in international life of the orderly adjudication of legal disputes."

Lord Robert Cecil said:

Church Votes to Sell Site For Athens Club

The First Presbyterian church, Seventh and Clay streets, has filed a petition with the superior court asking permission to sell the property to the Athens Athletic Club for $275,000.

The petition states the amount of the sale price but does not mention the Athletic Club. It is stated that the board of trustees of the church, R. A. Leet, president, and J. A. Sider, secretary, voted on April 25 to make the sale, as it was deemed in the best interests of the church which could use the money to secure a more desirable location.

Barrows Urged To Vote Sunday Symphony Ban

Scores Protest Taboo On the Concert Series in the Greek Theater.

BERKELEY, April 28.—With many ministers of the Eastbay region refusing to join in the ban on the Greek Theater, the proposed Sunday concerts of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra planned for the Greek theater, scores of letters were today directed to President David P. Barrows in an effort to have him give his vote to the ban.

Mrs. Stella Warden Smith and Mrs. Genevieve Wade Hatch, leaders in Berkeley's music colony, were today directing activities in art circles and among music lovers in placing the situation before the latter before the latter announces his decision.

That scores of protests have been received at the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce headquarters was the statement today of Managing Director Charles Keeler Keeler, who appeared before the Berkeley Fellowship of Churches headed by Dr. E. P. Bennett in an effort to win endorsement for the music series.

PEOPLE AROUSED.

"I have seldom seen people of Berkeley so aroused," was the statement today of Keeler. "They insist the concert must be given. It is unfortunate that Berkeley is in very great feeling on the subject. The Chamber of Commerce treats the entire matter in strict confidence and was in no way responsible for the publicity given."

"But now that the details of the situation have become known there is a very great feeling on the subject in circles where good music is considered one of the greatest enlightening features of the present day. How can we counteract objectionable forms of amusement on Sunday if we do not give substance?"

The Chamber of Commerce is taking no initiative in the matter, however, preferring to let individuals bring pressure to bear on the proper authorities. I did all that I could for the concert when Professor Hume asked my support and in both verbal and written communication I sought to influence the minds of the pastors. I feel personally, however, that the situation is not now stands in rather hopeful hope."

MUSIC "WORSHIP."

Among the protesting letters sent to Dr. Barrows today was one of Mrs. Stella Warden Smith, 821 San Luis road who wrote as follows:

"We who think of music as a form of worship consider that this Symphony Orchestra's glorious music can make any day sacred."

"To any thinking person it is a self-evident fact that a body of skilled musicians is not going to give its valuable services for nothing. It is preposterous to expect it; and in the face of the fact that ministers and their musicians are paid on the Sabbath day—the day of days when they serve and are paid."

"Where is the consistency in not paying skilled musicians who interpret the inspired music of the masters?"

"As a musician and a teacher of music to children in this community as well as a mother of a student in the university, I utter a complete protest against the stand taken by the ministers."

Protest also was made to Prof. Hume by Dr. Elsie Reed Mitchell, 306 Santa Barbara road, who wrote as follows:

"I want to express most emphatically my hope that these concerts shall be given this summer, as planned. Students in the summer school, coming from all parts of the state, would be disappointed if the state could not give them the opportunity to hear California's finest orchestra. No should the citizens of Berkeley be deprived of a privilege which they value so highly because of a protest from a small minority. The Symphony Orchestra seems to me a strong influence against the growing spirit of commercialism."

OAKLAND BASEBALL CLUB WILL GET MUCH NEEDED SHAKUP

GEORGE MURCHIO HURLS FINE BRAND OF BALL AGAINST BEES, BUT TEAMMATES FAIL HIM

Oaks Get 11 Base Hits But Only One Run

Marchio Allows a Single Earned Run and Six Hits to S. L. Bees.

George Murchio, former University of California and Tribune League pitcher, is the third Oakland moundman to hurl a dandy ball game against the Salt Lake Bees, only to meet with a defeat. George was checked to do the honors yesterday afternoon, and he did his stuff in good style, holding the Bees, to six hits and one earned run. The pitching of Johnny Singleton and Dick McCabe for the Bees natted the Oaks but earned runs, but they got enough men on the bases to score a half dozen of them. Eleven base hits were credited to the locals, and losing after having runners died on the bases because nobody could come through at the right time. Vol. Cather and Chet Thomas each got three of the eleven hits. Thomas had a fine chance to win the game for the Oaks in the seventh inning, but this was the time he failed to connect, popping a weak ball to Peters.

The eighth inning was the only one in which the Oaks did not get someone on the path. Murchio blanked the Bees with one hit in the first four innings, and in the fifth, a single by Peters, Wetzel's lead, and Peters' single, scored one run. Two more scored in the sixth on one hit. Lewis hit a single to Madaras, and moved to third on two infield outs. Leslie was purposely walked, and Lewis scored in a double steal with his first meager. Thomas threw to second was poor, and Chet Cather had no time to make a good throw home. Peters reached second when Madaras fielded his grounder and threw wild toward first, and Leslie scored.

The Oaks got a hit in each of the first five innings, and two more in the sixth without a score. In the fifth, Cooper was caught trying to steal home while Brubaker was at bat. It pleased the Bees as the Oaks try to get away with something for a change. Singles by Cather, Wetzel and Lafayette filled the bags with one out in the seventh, and Wilhoit took eight of Brubaker's line drive to right, but could not keep Cather from scoring. Those hits were made out by McCabe as Manager Lewis lifted Singleton from the box in the sixth inning when two hits were made off him. The score:

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, B, O, A, E, Total. Rows for Salt Lake and Oakland players.

WESTERN LEAGUE. Oklahoma City 1, Denver 3. (11 innings). Tulsa 1, Des Moines 1. Wichita 2, Omaha 4. St. Joseph 12, Sioux City 2.

BAY CITIES' SANDLOT PRODUCTS WITH THE BEES

Duffy Lewis has several products of the Oakland and San Francisco sandlots on his Salt Lake ball club. Here we are showing a couple of them. The lad with the big catching mitt is EDDIE ANFINSON, a San Francisco boy who played in that city and The TRIBUNE League before joining the Bees. The other fellow is OSCAR VITT, another San Francisco boy, who broke in with the Bees, and then went to the American League for ten years, and is now third baseman and captain for the Bees. Vitt resides in East Oakland.

Lewis believes that Anfinson is the best young catcher in the league, and he intends to give him plenty of work to do this season. Peters is doing the brunt of the work, but not because Anfinson does not know his stuff behind the long. Peters is a much harder hitter.

MANAGER HOWARD IS HOPEFUL OF HAVING A FIRST DIVISION CLUB

George Lafayette Will Be Benched and Marty McGaffigan and Percy Chavez Will Be Used As Combination Around Second Base.

By EDDIE MURPHY. Oakland, one of the best baseball towns in the country, has been supporting a second division club in the Pacific Coast League for more than a half dozen years now, and unless there is a shakeup in the club that is now representing this city in the 1923 flag chase, it will be necessary to add another year to the list of those in which the Oaks finished in the second division, since they won their last pennant in 1912. At the start of the season, the Oaks shaped up as a pennant contending team. They beat the Chicago Cubs three straight, while other Coast League clubs were lucky to get an even break. So far, the fans of the eastbay have supported the team better this season than they did last, and it is only fair that they be shown a winning team when they go out to the park. The morale of the club is wrecked, and something should be done very soon to better conditions, or else the locals will not get out of the cellar at all.

Players who were stars on the club last season are not coming through in the same way. Of course we must allow for the lateness of Walter Mads and Buz Arlett in getting ready to pitch, and also for the injury to Marty McGaffigan. Del Baker and "Red" Smith are still on the sick list, but those troubles should not keep the rest of the players from showing the fans something. Fans do not mind going out to watch a ball game and seeing the team lose, as long as some signs of life are shown, but the Oaks can stand a lot of jacking up. There is as much money being displayed by the Oaks as there would be found in a barrel of sugar just coming out of the refinery.

Howard Will Give Team Shakeup This Afternoon. Manager Ivan Howard may be too good to his ballplayers, and then again there may be something else wrong. Anyway it is something serious, and the fans have started asking the same old question which has haunted Oakland ever since baseball season for the last six years. What is the matter with the Oaks? That question has never been properly answered. Howard is a grand fellow, and no doubt all his players want to win for him, but they cannot get off on the right foot. Everything they do in the pinches on the ball field seems to be wrong. Almost every time that the opposition tries to and today he will be seen in action at short stop in place of Al Madaras, who has been filling in for Marvin Smith. Madaras showed more power than any of the other infielders, but Howard feels that he should give Chavez a chance to show what he can do in the field. Madaras' anxiety to make plays in a hurry resulted in some costly boos. Marty McGaffigan, who was unable to show in a game on the Oakland lot since the start of the season, because of an injured shoulder, will get into action this afternoon at second base. Marty's shoulder is still bothering him, but Howard decided that by putting McGaffigan into the lineup he could not make the club look any worse than it has. McGaffigan is the hustling type of player and should speed up the infield as well as give the locals some speed on the bases. McGaffigan will be kept at third base, and no changes are planned for the outfield, although Howard said he will shove Johnson into one of the positions, with the first sign of any player showing weakness out there. Chet Cather and Danny Wille appear to be rounding to their right stride, and when they get going right, they are hard to beat. But the main thing is, the fans are still for a club that will finish in the first division, and Ivan Howard is ready to make any kind of a move that would help the club to such a position.

Following yesterday's game, Howard ordered every one of his players to report at the ball park this morning at 10:30 o'clock. He intends to give them a good lecture as well as a workout on the diamond.

DR. C. H. WALTER AND OTHER FAVORITES ARE DEFEATED IN GOLF PLAY IN COLLEGE CITY

DR. J. H. STEINMAN BEATS BABE RITCHIE ON BERKELEY COURSE

Johnny McHugh Survives Another Two Matches; Dr. C. H. Walter, Last Year's Champion, Eliminated by F. R. Upton in Yesterday's Play.

By W. D. McNICOLL.

At Berkeley yesterday the first and second rounds of the Northern Amateur Championship were played under ideal golfing conditions. The greens were in better shape and the scoring in many of the matches was far ahead of Wednesday's performances.

Johnny McHugh came through safely in both of his matches, but had plenty of stubborn opposition from Claud Edwards who took him to the home green in the morning, and Francis Murphy was just as difficult to eliminate in the afternoon. McHugh was playing many of his famous run-up shots that disconcert his opponents just when they think they have a hole clinched.

F. L. King put up a good game against McHugh's victim, but finally lost at the 17th down. Arthur Finley of the Claremont Club, eliminated G. N. Villain, the U. C. representative, on the last green one up, but he in turn fell before the skillful play of F. R. Upton who had previously eliminated Dr. C. H. Walter, last year's champion.

The doctor's defeat was one of the big surprises of the day, but Upton was in one of his best moods, and that is good enough to beat the strongest of opponents. George Nickel and Sam Conlan Jr. won their morning games comfortably, and then played some interesting golf during the afternoon. On the 17th, when Nickel extended congratulations.

Claire Goodwin, one of Joe Novak's most promising pupils, defeated Gerald Marx, of Claremont, at the nineteenth. Goodwin was downy 4 but Marx finished the last four holes in one hour 20 to even up the match. The extra hole was well played, both reaching the green with their second, Goodwin holed a long putt for a 3, Marx failing to duplicate the feat was finally eliminated.

Dr. J. H. Steinman, playing all his shots with confidence and precision, eliminated J. A. (Babe) Ritchie by a margin of 3-2. Ritchie was considered one of the strongest contenders for the championship, having played many brilliant practice games over the Berkeley course, whereas the Sequoyah player had so far failed to play to his usual form. From the 10th to the 15th Dr. Steinman's score was 4-3-3-6-4-4, his approach to the 12th from a trap almost holed out. The long 16th was badly played where the match finished 3 up. Claire Goodwin made a brave fight against his more experienced opponent, who was out in 36. Dr. Steinman's approach to the 17th hole was invariably close to the pin, but the Berkeley player was putting brilliantly and frequently secured halves that seemed hopeless. On the 18th green Steinman was stymied twice, a most unusual coincidence, the hole was finally holed.

C. E. Foley and Dr. J. Eaves won their morning rounds easily, but the San Francisco doctor failed to keep up his morning round form and lost to the ex-Claremont 5-4. Stanton Haight and E. O. Lyman had a regular varsity match, Haight won 5-3, and proceeded to eliminate Phil T. Clapp, of the Olympic club, by a margin of 2-1.

Parke Wilson did well in his first championship effort and took Kenneth Montague to the 19th hole for decision. George Ritchie, who had won comfortably in the morning game, defeated Montague at the 18th, and now merely plays J. G. Levison over 36 holes in the third round. The San Jose player had a hard match on hand with Wilbert Edwards, but the famous southpaw won at the short 17th 2 up, and then eliminated another brilliant young player, E. B. Osborne, by a 4-3 margin.

The third round matches today over 36 holes should prove interesting. McHugh vs. Upton, Conlan vs. Steinman, Foley vs. Haight and George Ritchie vs. Levison are matches that may feel the expert decision.

Joe Whetstone Eliminated by A. Furze; Six Matches Set For Tonight

First round elimination matches of the annual TRIBUNE diamond medal tournament were rolled last night at the Maryland alleys with few upsets of the day.

The elimination of Joe Whetstone was the greatest surprise of the evening. A Furze taking two straight from the crack local star with scores of 191 in each game.

Joe Benkosky, winner of last year's diamond medal, won his opening round match from E. W. Gregg of Richmond with two straight, hitting 234 in his first game and ending up in the second.

HOPPING MATCH DELAYED. The only scheduled match postponed was that of Harry Hopping and Louis Pleroff which will probably be rolled tonight at 8 o'clock.

R. A. Whitney, one of the big guns of the tournament, eliminated Felton Montgomery of the Del Monte Cafes in two straight with scores of over 200 in each game.

George Porterfield, star of the Brenner Furniture quintet, showed to advantage against Walter Beam of the Bowling Center and won two straight.

M. L. Hoffman of the Auditorium, after winning the first, weakened against J. Welland and the latter improved, Hoffman losing the last two games.

Art Francis won his match from W. J. Long of Richmond while V. Francis met defeat at the hands of Harvey Reasner, the match going three games.

ANALY HIGH WINS. SEBASTOPOL, April 27.—With the score tied 3 to 3 in the last half of the ninth, and with three men on base, Lummis of the Analy high school handled them out of a three-bagger, and gave the local team a 6 to 3 victory over Napa. Collins, Analy pitcher, allowed only six hits and struck out thirteen men.

OAKLAND WINS WIN. The Oakland camp, W. O. W. No. 84, came from behind scoring six runs in the seventh and overcame a five-run lead, defeating the Modern Woodmen of America 11-8. Heavy hitting by both teams featured Chapman was very effective for the O. W.

Industry And Business At Higher Levels Than In 1920

MAKES LAST BID FOR PUBLIC FAVOR

New Crop Rapidly Superseding Them in Market; Apples Active.

Old potatoes are making their last bid for public favor, advancing to the highest prices of the season about 10 days ago, to be followed by a decline by the more acceptable offerings of the new crop, which is now finding its way into the market in rapidly increasing quantities.

The top of the spring rise, the United States bureau of agricultural economics said today, apparently has passed, with activity in many sections subsiding a great deal. The point of collapse, the bureau said, was reached in the price of old potatoes.

Old potato shipments for the week totaled 745 cars, an increase of 223 cars, during the week ending period last year only 330 cars were marketed. The states leading in the shipments were Idaho, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and Maine. Recent reports of intended plantings indicate a probable decrease of 9 per cent for the United States compared with last year.

The apple market is improving from its slump of the past month. While the prices thus far have not advanced there has been a notable increase in demand and the distributors were forecasting today higher quotations next week.

Shipments of cherries are increasing and the price has been cut in two in the past four days. Advance and Purple Guigne varieties are as yet the only ones to show. Their warm weather is expected to mature the crop very rapidly from this time on.

Commercial estimates indicate that the amount of record-breaking 1923 crop of canned fruits now remaining unsold in the hands of the canners is but little larger, in proportion to the total pack, than the stocks held last year at this time. The greater part of the present crop is made up of the lower grade packs of the various fruits, particularly peaches.

Export movement of canned fruit during the 1922-1923 season has been comparatively light. It is estimated in the trade that foreign buyers have taken only about 4 per cent of the 1922 pack of California fruits, as compared with purchases of approximately 8 per cent of the total pack during the previous season. But the better grades of fruit have been in active demand in the domestic markets. The prices have also advanced slightly as the season progressed.

Delays in the transportation of dried fruits from California to Eastern markets during the late months in 1922 prevented the normal volume of sales on these fruits during the year-end holiday season, also resulting in lower prices. The hands of distributors there at the beginning of the present year, buying by the latter for spring needs, have, therefore, been higher than usual. Notwithstanding, Pacific Coast holdings of dried fruits are raising excepted, are net large. Some stocks are 50 per cent below 1922.

BUSINESS NOW AT HIGHEST PEAK IN LAST FOUR YEARS

Production 8 Per Cent Above High Mark of 1920 and 67 Per Cent Above 1921.

(By Associated Press.) LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Continued increases in industrial production, further expansion in building operations and freight movements heavier each week than in any corresponding week in four years, were reported as among the outstanding features of business conditions this month in a statement today by the federal reserve board. General production, the statement announced, was eight per cent higher on the basis of the index ratio than the high peak of 1920 and 67 per cent above the low point of 1921.

While the board's statement dealt largely with expansion, it was devoid of comment as to length to which the expansion may go. It was ascertained, however, that in some official quarters the belief is held that the expansion is being pressed as to the significance of this condition.

There has yet been no reflection in the re-discounts by the federal reserve banks of the reported heavy borrowings from member banks of the reserve system. The board's statement, however, thus far to take care of the calls for funds which have become increasingly great as the industrial expansion progressed.

The loans of member banks for commercial purposes increased 48,000,000 in the thirty months prior to April 11. The increase, however, has not been reflected in the re-discounts of the reserve banks largely as a result, the statement explained, of withdrawal of funds from investment and the continued inflow of gold. This condition also has resulted in more or less stable money rates.

March sales by department stores as reported to the reserve banks, were about 22 per cent greater than a year ago. With this went an increased turnover of stock, as shown by the fact that stocks held by the reporting stores were only six per cent greater than in March, 1922. Sales by mail order houses were reported as larger than in any month since November, 1922, and 35 per cent larger than March of last year.

Rates on Sash and Doors to Be Revised

WASHINGTON, April 27.—General readjustment of railroad rates on sash and doors and other items of mill lumber house trimmings was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission, on the ground that present rates on the lumber products are unduly prejudicial to manufacturing plants in Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois and unduly preferential to similar mills on the Pacific coast.

The commission ordered to establish new schedules by June 15. The rates to be altered will be those applying from the producing point to consuming territory located east of Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

In general the railroads were ordered to reduce rates on mill lumber from the Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin mills, to bring them more nearly equal to existing rates on unfinished lumber between the same points. The commission held that the rates on the Pacific coast producing points to the same eastern territory would be unlawful after the date given unless increased by amounts designed to equalize the situation.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 27.—The first unit of the Ford plant in St. Paul, which will be in operation by January 1, will be a building 1400 feet long and 70 feet wide.

ALAMEDA MAYOR
URGES RENEWAL OF BASE LEASE

Matter of Loyalty As Well As Preparedness, Club Told by Speaker.

ALAMEDA, April 27 — "Voters of this city must do their duty to the government and renew its lease on the naval base site, at the election to be held May 8. It is a matter of loyalty to country as well as a question of preparedness," emphatically declared Mayor Frank Otis addressing an open meeting of the Alameda Improvement club last night at a gathering in the clubhouse of the organization on Webster street held for the purpose of discussing the pros and cons on extending the lease to the United States government on the Alameda naval base site.

Mayor Otis pointed out in his talk that the securing of a naval base on the Pacific coast at Alameda was a matter of vital importance, constituting as it would a means of coast defense at the gateway to the trade of the Orient. He concluded his remarks by expressing the opinion that the city of Alameda would be making a grave mistake not to vote to renew the lease.

E. K. Taylor outlined to the meeting his viewpoints on the city renewing the lease. In his argument he declared Alameda should remain at least 1000 acres and the Alameda mode for future harbor development.

Other speakers who addressed the meeting were William J. Hamilton, who spoke on the needs of the city, C. L. Hickok and William J. Locke, both discussing certain features in the formation of a municipal utility district as well as data concerning the need for more water in Alameda.

Fred N. Morcom Elected President of Oakland Rotary at Annual Banquet

Club Claims Big Attendance Record; Finances Show Improvement.

Fred N. Morcom, art connoisseur and collector, is the new president of the Oakland Rotary Club.

The members assembled at the fifteenth annual dinner meeting at the Hotel Oakland last night also elected Warren Williams as vice-president and Leo Newbert, George Cunningham, John Sexton and the vice-president to the board of directors.

Morcom succeeds Thomas C. Eaglesome who was presented last night with a checkbook at the conclusion of his term of office.

The retiring members of the board of directors are Harry Anderson, William McCracken, Harvey Lyon and William Mayhew.

With the exception of the presidential election the contests were uneventful. The first candidate named for president was Joseph J. Rosborough, the retiring vice-president. This nomination was made by Carsten Schmidt.

George Meredith, another ex-president, then proposed Morcom and Dr. Clifford Sweet moved that the nomination be closed.

Morcom received 138 of the 187 votes cast and on Rosborough's motion it was made unanimous.

CARNIVAL OF SPEECH.

The meeting unfolded shortly after six o'clock in the main dining room of the Hotel Oakland and continued until half past ten. It was a carnival of speech-making, including a series of speeches by the ex-presidents who endeavored to explain why their terms of office were more notable than the one of the retiring president.

Paul Heiger newly elected district governor of the Rotary club, was the guest of honor at the meeting and delivered two speeches encouraging an attendance at the Portland-California Rotary celebration.

Followed then a feature of the

Rotary Chief

FRED N. MORCOM, who was elected president of the Oakland Rotary Club, at the annual meeting.

Achievements of Body Are Detailed in Carnival of Addresses.

In honor of George Ross, a member of the club, who is leaving for a year's trip in Europe, in response to a farewell speech, said that there have been two epochs in his life, his years in college and his years in Rotary.

FINANCES IMPROVE.

William Mayhew, treasurer of the organization, reported that the financial condition of the organization has improved materially during the last year. When he took office there was $626 in the treasury and now it has $1366 73.

During the year $5075 14 was collected in fees for the club fund.

Speeches then followed by Harry Anderson, William McCracken, Harvey Lyon and William Mayhew, the retiring directors, who told their experiences on the board during the past two years.

After this session was completed President Eaglesome presented Warren Williams with emblems of Rotary for him and his committee. The group headed by Williams won the prize for attendance, achievement and success in the luncheon program. The group has been engaged in boys' work at the Oakland High school.

According to a brief address made by Charles Keyes, principal of the Oakland High school in his experience of forty years as a school man he has never seen a better piece of work than that done by the Williams group.

ATTENDANCE RECORD.

That the Oakland Rotary Club achieved an enviable attendance record during the past year was claimed in the annual report of President Eaglesome who rated it as ninety-four per cent, a rating higher than any other club in the international organization. The membership of the club is now 29.

President Eaglesome also paid tribute to the club's financial condition, newly elected director of the club, on his zeal during the past year and his work in the community singing department.

When he finished his report, Eaglesome was presented with the check by Director Lyon after a commendatory speech.

The retiring president said in concluding his speech of acceptance, "Long after I am gone, this timepiece will be ticking the beats of my heart for the men of the Oakland Rotary Club."

The members then voted by acclamation that William Wellby be named as a delegate to the International Rotary convention alone.

3000 BERKELEY
CHILDREN JOIN
CHORUS TONIGHT

Most Spectacular Even of Music Week Set for the Greek Theater.

BERKELEY, April 27 — As the most spectacular event of the Berkeley Music Week program, more than 3000 school children of the College City will join tonight in a great demonstration in the Greek theater.

Miss Victorina Hartley, supervisor of music in the Berkeley schools will present to the public a chorus of 2000 children, three orchestras and two bands. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and will be open to the public.

Following is the complete program to be presented.

Part one: "Heroes of War" (Johnson) overture, "Conquerors" (Karl), by the combined Junior High School and "There's Music in the Air" community singing, "Now the Day is Over" (Barbary), "The Mountain Maid" from "William Tell" (Rossini), by the Eighth and Ninth Grade choruses, "Crusaders" (Rolinson) waltz, "Three Jolies" (middle school) "Inventions" (Gut), "The Little Shepherd" (Gut), "Spaulding" by Girls' chorus, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, march, "Chimes of Liberty" (Goldman), overture, "Hungarian Comedy" (Karl), "Far Away in the South" (Southern melody), "Deep River" (negro spiritual), "Indian Mountain Song" (Cushman), "Beloved" (Donizetti) Boys' Glee, "Circles" (Gut) and mixed choruses, Berkeley High school.

Part two: Suite "Scenes Allegro" No. 1, "Dunich Soix" (Mazurka), "The Little Shepherd" (Gut), with Fred Morcom, who goes as president.

Wellby had just contributed an additional $500 to the Community Chest at the behest of Max Horwinski, who said that the drive is an example of raising money in an unusual way.

As a final spurt of speechmaking, the past president had the singers and Frank Edgar, Robert Robertson, Thomas Bridges, V. O. Lawrence, Albert E. Carter, George Meredith, John Smith, Herman Johnson, Max Morwinski, Carsten Schmidt and Eaglesome spoke.

There were thirty-two speeches, ranging from two to twenty minutes and other entertainment was provided in a vocal and musical program.

'Phone Head Tells Why
'Thornwald,' 'Humboldt'

"Thornwald?" "Humboldt?"

Quest names, these, to the ear of the old-time telephone patron. "Not queer, but new" remark John D. Holmes, district manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company. "In order to take care of the growing service in Oakland and Berkeley we found it necessary to install two new auxiliary exchanges. Thornwald is the number prefix for the Berkeley auxiliary, and Humboldt for the Oakland."

"But why Thornwald? Or Humboldt?" queries the old-time telephone customer. "Why not passafra? Or Amphiboie? Or any other prefix equally lugubrious as Thornwald?"

"Thornwald," proudly remarks Holmes, "is the latest achievement of telephonic science. In selecting prefixes for telephone numbers it is necessary to choose names that will not be confused with these already in use. Considerable study has been given to this part of telephone operation, and the prefixes are determined according to a strictly scientific principle. Also, a system of automatic switching is being prepared for this district and that requires that the first letters of the number prefixes for the various exchanges shall consist of a certain variety of groups. In attempting to avoid confusion with the prefixes for-

what it means

Except for two famous names—Steinway and Aeolian—it is exceedingly difficult to find any piano that has not passed through one or more changes of maker.

With change in the manufacturer there often comes deterioration. Great piano names are bought—but they are only names. Who shall know, except by actual purchase and use, how much of the original tradition still exists behind the name?

Sherman, Clay & Co. long have realized this condition, and offer the Aldrich piano as a result.

The name Aldrich is owned by Sherman, Clay & Co. Its specifications are laid down by us, and the manufacturers are carefully picked by us for their skill. As long as Sherman, Clay & Co. remain in business, the materials and workmanship inside an Aldrich cannot drop below their designated standard.

The Aldrich grand piano is $995, and can be bought for $99.50 down, the balance over two and a half years.

The Aldrich upright is $445, and can be had for as little as $44.50 down.
